Pauline Vaugeois named as new Citizen of the Year

About 250 people waited with bated breath for the announcement of St. Albert's Citizen of the Year 1977 in the Club Mocombo last Saturday night.

Their wait was rewarded with the news that Pauline Vaugeois, St. Albert, formerly of Legal and Deputy Commissioner of the Girl Guides of Canada Tamarac area was the new citizen of the year.

A citation points out the reasons why Miss Vaugeois was chosen as citizen of the year and the full text runs as follows: "The Citizens of St. Albert District are proud to honour their citizen of the 1977 year, one who has given many years of unselfish, voluntary service to this community."

Future of Sheckter property still undecided

The seven-year struggle between Heritage Park and the City of St. Albert went another round Friday evening but at the meeting's end, it was still a no-decision contest. When questioned by reporters after the meeting, Heritage Park President Joe Sheckter commented that "all they've left us is farming!"

The company is proposing to develop a shopping centre on their land at the corner of Hebert Road and the St. Albert Trail. They began their negotiations with council over seven years ago. At last Monday's meeting of council, a motion was made on a recommendation from the Municipal Planning Commission that the development be approved for single family residential and office commercial developments. This recommendation was one of three alternatives for land use in Akinsdale South in a report drawn up by the city's planning department. Council reconvened Friday evening to vote on the motion, as they failed to complete their agenda at the regular Monday meeting.

The appearance of the company's representatives before the meeting was in itself debated by council. Mayor Ronald Harvey stated that in the interests of democracy, the company's spokesman should be allowed to appear and make their presentation. Ald. Bill Shields said he questioned the propriety of Mr. Sheckter's appearance at a time when council was deciding a land use policy. However, Mr. Shields moved that the spokesmen be allowed to address council for 15 minutes. The motion carried.

Mayor names February as Heart Month

In a proclamation issued Friday Mayor Ron Harvey, designated February as Heart Month, and urged all residents of St. Albert to support the 1978 Heart Campaign to be conducted across Canada.

The mayor asked support for efforts of the St. Albert Heart Campaign in fighting the nation's Number One Killer, cardiovascular disease.

Mayor Harvey said these diseases claim more than 82,000 lives in Canada each year and account for over 50% of the deaths from all causes.

During Heart Month, St. Albert volunteers will join more than 200,000 volunteers nationwide to distribute heart-saving information and collect funds for research, educational and community projects, dedicated to combatting diseases of the heart and circulatory systems.

Mayor Harvey assisted in kicking off the 1978 Heart Campaign in St. Albert by signing a proclamation declaring February to be Heart Month in the city. With Mayor Harvey to witness the signing were, from left - Isabel Van Essen (Alpha Theta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi), Muriel Dingler (Kinette Club of St. Albert), and Sylvia Peterson (X1 Phi Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi).

Fun filled Winter Carnival set to go

The St. Albert Lions Winter Carnival '78 will get cracking February 10, 11 and 12 provided Jack Frost doesn't release his grip beforehand.

This will be the fourth winter carnival in St. Albert since winter carnivals started in 1974 here and it looks as though there will be plenty to keep people warm and active.

Forty entries are already expected for the dog team races and they will be competing for $3,000 in prize money. Two of the entries will be coming from such far flung places as Utah and Alaska. The races will be held Saturday and Sunday, February 11 and 12 starting at 12 p.m. from Lions Park.

The winter carnival parade will be held Friday night February 10. It will form up at the Lion's Park and travel east down Sir Winston Churchill Avenue and then up Perron Street to St. Anne Street where it will turn and continue back to the Lion's Park. The carnival will be officially opened after the parade and will be accompanied with a bonfire and fireworks display.

Other activities connected with the winter carnival will be cross-country ski races sponsored by the Nordic Ski Club. These will be open to all high school and junior high school students.

Location for the races will be Lions Park on Saturday, February 11 with the boys event taking place 1 p.m. and the girls half-an-hour later.

Adults will have their chance at cross country skiing Sunday, February 12 at 1 p.m. To enter be at the Lion's Park February 10 at 1 p.m.

CARNIVAL QUEEN

Another highlight of the carnival will be the winter carnival queen contest.

Entries for carnival queen must be presented to the Albert Lacombe school by January 31 and they should be given to F. McCurry. Each of the following schools qualify for ONE entry in the contest - St. Albert High, Paul Kane, Sir George Simpson, V.J. Maloney and Lorne Akins. Entry forms can be had from the staff representative for the carnival.

Final judging of the carnival queen will be Monday, February 6 at 3:30 p.m. in the V.J. Maloney lunch study room. The main responsibility of the carnival queen will be to officiate at the winter carnival events.

For those who want to get fat during the winter carnival there will be a burger eating contest at the St. Albert Dairy Queen February 9 at 7:30 p.m. This will be between St. Albert High and Paul Kane. The rules are that there will be one team from each high school with the team consisting of two guys and two gals (preferably big eaters). The team eating the most burgers wins. The prize

Move to open meetings thwarted

Other members reacted negatively to fellow Catholic School Board trustee Jerry Manegre's move to open committee meetings to the public.

In speaking against the motion, Ken Porter said the question of holding committee meetings in public was up to the particular committee chairman. If Public input is required the committee can invite delegations to appear before it. He would not like to be governed by section 47 of the School Act while in Committee.

Section 47 provides that board meetings are to be open unless section 47(3) is utilized. Section 47(3(permits any board meeting to go 'in camera' for any portion of the meeting upon a majority vote to do so. No resolutions may be passed while 'in camera'. All actions of the board must be passed and recorded in public.

permits any board meeting to go 'in camera' for any portion of the meeting upon a majority vote to do so. No resolutions may be passed while 'in camera'. All actions of the board must be passed and recorded in public.

The ASTA interprets the section to mean committee meetings are not meetings of the Board and therefore are not regulated by Section 47. The ASTA finds that the only regulation with respect to committee meetings is in Section 65(3) (f) of the act. It

In his presentation, Mr. Wayne Quinn of Heritage Park told council that he was a chartered accountant who had negotiated the development of the Woodward's complex and the Westridge subdivision in Lethbridge as well as the Petrolia, Ermineskin and Steele Heights subdivisions in Edmonton. Regarding the negotiations in St. Albert, Mr. Quinn said that during the several years that the company had awaited the go-ahead on their project, over 600,000 square feet of retail space had been approved for other developers. He said the site had the approval of the city's engineering department and stated that the company has had tenants lined up since 1969. He informed the aldermen that the developers had spent $300,000 installing underground services required by the City Engineering Department. He reminded the council that when St. Albert had needed water, the company had purchased a right of way out of their own pocket as well as an easement through their own land and had given those to the city with no compensation.

In rebuttal to statements previously made concerning the viability of the proposed shopping centre, Mr. Quinn said it was not the role of council to determine the economic viability of a developer's proposal, if the developer was willing to finance it. Mr. Quinn also stated that fears regarding the development's effects on existing businesses were unjustified. He said that the Grandin Shopping Centre would be in a better competitive position as their costs would be less due to previously lower building costs. St. Albert residents would benefit from the lower prices and wider selection that come with increased competition.

"WEAK" INDUSTRIAL BASE

Mr. Quinn said that the six percent industrial base existant presently in St. Albert was "weak" and stated that their development would create 200 jobs and add a quarter of a million dollars in tax revenues.

TAXES HIKED 3000 PERCENT

In a parting thrust, Mr. Quinn stated that taxes collected on the property in question had increased 3,000 percent in the last year, rising from $450 to $12,000. The company was told by the city assessor that the increase was due to the commercial connotation of the land. However, President Joe Sheckter later stated that the land had not been cultivated last year or seeded as he felt approval to proceed with a commercial development would be granted and it would be a waste of money. Also he felt that this was an invalid assessment, and he would be appealing the matter. He pointed out that allowing land to lie fallow was a recognized agricultural practice, and is allowed under the agricultural land use designation. When questioned by Ald. Liesbeth Bakker later on the subject, City Administrator Bob Byron stated that such an assessment was in accordance with the provincial manual and was not made on the whim of the assessor.

In his address to council, Mr. Sheckter pointed out that the three intersections along that section of the St. Albert Trail had been approved for commercial use, including a shopping centre, a drive-in restaurant and a car agency.

"We have the logical site with the proper turn," said Mr. Sheckter.

OUT OF THEIR MINDS?

In regard to the MPC's recommendation that the site be used primarily for single family residential homes, Mr. Sheckter responded incredulously.

"Who in his right mind would want to buy a single family dwelling beside Jasper Auto Parts, Hebert Road and the St. Albert Trail? And a proposed new freeway? asked Mr. Sheckter. He also stated emphatically that he would not consider developing the land for this purpose, or selling it.

Mr. Sheckter remarked that Einstein had spent less time formulating his theory of relativity than the city had taken to decide the fate of his land. He also took exception to the fact that the company had never been informed of the existance of the Land Use Alternatives Report on Akinsdale South, although he said that others had had access to the report.

Mr. Sheckter concluded by stating that the proposed development was "viable, practical and feasible" and that he hoped there would be no further tabling of the matter.

Mr. Sheckter's presentation drew a number of questions from council. Ald. Breadner inquired if the developer would consider a multiple family residential project. However, Mr. Sheckter stated that the site was too large an area for that kind of development, although part of it would be suitable. Ald. Liesbeth Bakker inquired if the company was willing to pay for the widening of Arlington Drive and Hebert Road. Mr. Sheckter answered that this was standard practice for developers to pay to accommodate the increased demands on roads leading to their facility.

In answer to a request from Mrs. Bakker regarding the names of tenants, Mr. Sheckter said that he did not think he should be forced to reveal tenants names as long as the land was considered commercial. He said the tenants should not have to "stick their necks out" until the company had a commitment from the city. Mr. Quinn added that the tenants concerned were sufficiently substantial that the bank had lent the money on the strength of the tenants' names.

Ald. Margaret Smith then moved that Alternative 1 be adopted for Akinsdale South. This is the alternative which would approve development of the shopping centre. Mr. Shields stated that he could not support a shopping centre that would be 225,000 square feet in size, or three times the size of the Grandin Shoppers Mall. He said it would be overscale for the land use.

AYOTTE SUPPORTS

Ald. Roger Ayotte stated that he fully endorsed Alternative 1. He said that he had talked to residents of the area who had complained about the proposal previously, but had decided they were not adamant in their protest. He said the council had a responsibility to increase commercial development, and he stated that such development had not reached the overscale proportions and was not even near what the city required. He said that council was "frustrating" the businessman, and stated that if the banks were willing to lend a developer money for a project, it was not council's role to determine that project's viability.

Speaking in favour of the MPC support of Alternative 3, Ald. Breadner said that there was concern that Alternative 1 would overdevelop the site, with a development three times the size of Grandin. Mr. Breadner also referred to other commercial development which has been agreed to, such as Woodlands.

Because she feared an adverse effect on the future downtown core development of city-owned land, Ald. Liesbeth Bakker said she was not in favour of the shopping centre proposal of Alternative 1. However, she said she did not approve of Alternative 3 either. Mrs. Bakker said she would vote for Alternative 1 if there were "very stringent limits on office commercial space" so that the development would not compete with the downtown. However, Ald. Breadner informed her that this kind of modification of the alternative would not be voted upon.

Although she made the motion in support of Alternative 1, Ald. Margaret Smith said she did not support the shopping centre proposal because of the city's commitment to a regional shopping centre to be built by Abacus Cities. She expressed concern about the effects on the downtown core and disagreed with Mr. Sheckter's statements that the criteria for the shopping centre had been met.

Ald. Rod Throndson stated that the city was in the development business itself in the downtown area, but disagreed with the protective stance taken by the Akinsdale report. He said that if the developer "laid down cold, hard cash," he had his own market reports on the project's viability. However, Mr. Throndson said that a vote for this shopping centre would be a vote to "kill the downtown," and so he could not support it.

The motion to approve alternative 1 was defeated, with Harvey and Ayotte supporting it, and Breadner, Smith, Bakker, Shields and Throndson against it.

However, the other alternatives presented in the Akinsdale report did not fare well either. Alternative three was voted down as was Alternative two.

As a result, the future of Akinsdale South remains undecided. The matter was moved referred to MPC and staff for further study, and the motion carried.

Gazette photographer Al Popil caught these two boys preparing to do battle with the unseen enemy. Bruce Ferguson and comrade Lyle Arnason had plenty of snow on hand to construct a mini fortress, for the future battle.

Almost New Shop opens January 28

The Almost New Shop is one of the projects of the Senior Citizens Club and is open on the last Saturday of every month from 1 - 4 p.m. in the Centre (north of the curling rink). Saturday, January 28 is the next occasion when the shop will be open and when it will again provide an opportunity to pick up clothing, footwear - for all ages - and household articles at rock bottom prices.

Bernie Vaugeois is always looking for fresh stock, particularly children's wear, and will be very pleased to accept clothing, footwear, used but in good condition and clean. Indeed, Bernie will accept almost anything so long as it is clean and useable. Contributions can be left at the Centre any time it is open or phone Bernie at 459-6273.

All proceeds of the shop go towards the operation of the club and its various activities.

Cultural facilities here?

Does St. Albert have a cultural life of its own, distinct from the thriving arts scene in Edmonton?

If culture is alive and well and living in St. Albert, should we have a separate cultural facility to house and support it?

Interest in these and related questions is growing in our city, and in the weeks to come the Gazette will be reporting on the activities of the Ad Hoc Committee formed to investigate the state of culture in St. Albert. Watch these pages to learn how you can play a role in defining St. Albert's cultural future!

Woman robbed of $28

Three St. Albert youths will appear in provincial court St. Albert January 25 in connection with a robbery outside the Royal Bank at the Lacombe Park Shopping Plaza, January 19.

Mrs. Sandra Hamm was the victim of the robbery after she was robbed of a purse containing $28.00.

This week's release from the RCMP states that the St. Albert Detachment now has an Arctic Cat 440 snowmobile which will be used to enforce the Off-Highways Vehicle Act. Section 2(2) of the Act says a person may operate an unregistered off-highway vehicle only on his own land or land owned by some other person if that person has expressly "or impliedly" consented to such operation "thereon."

Persons contravening this section will be charged accordingly. Snowmobilers are advised to contact the Queen's Printer at 11510 Kingsway Avenue, Edmonton, by phoning 427-4952, and obtain a copy of the Off-Highway Vehicle Act so all will have the regulations.

St. Albert RCMP are investigating a break-in at the Paul Kane High School January 23. Entry was gained through the glass window on the side of the school with a total of $300 damage done.

Young Michel Lanthier celebrated his birthday in a royal way at Les Tournesols playschool Thursday. Michel was made Roi la journee (King for the day) and his classmates joined hands and sang happy birthday en englais et en francais. Class teacher, Mrs. Florence Lefebvre, uses giving and receiving of gifts as part of her curriculum. Each pupil receives a large sunflower cookie from Mrs. Lefebvre on the occasion of their birthday.

Mystery is solved as slides retrieved

Last week's Gazette carried a weird and wonderful tale describing the adventures of a set of slides entrusted to the tender care of the post office. The slides, which depicted scenes of Utah, California and the David Thompson Highway, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Muskens, enclosed in a letter from Mrs. Muskens sister in Holland. The Muskens realized that the slides were not intended for them, and had been incorrectly placed in the letter when it had been repaired at the Post Office. Mrs. Muskens asked the Gazette to run the story, hoping she could track down the slides' rightful owners. Mrs. Muskens also reported her discovery to the St. Albert Post Office, hoping the owner would make inquiries there.

Our story brought instant results. It was spotted by Mr. and Mrs. D. J. McCracken of 47 Gainsborough Avenue, who -- you guessed it -- had lost a similar set of slides. They had sent them to be developed here in St. Albert and could not figure out what happened to them after St. Albert Photo and Camera mailed them back. They had reported their loss to both the Edmonton and St. Albert Post Offices. However, both these offices stated flatly they had heard nothing about any missing slides, despite Mrs. Muskens report. In total, the slides were in the mail about two and one-half weeks before the complex mystery of their whereabouts was unravelled.

The McCrackens and the Muskens reckon that both their letters suffered damage in the post office. When the damage was repaired, the slides were inadvertantly placed in the wrong letter.

The McCrackens are delighted to retrieve this record of their holiday and are high in their praise of Mrs. Muskens' civic minded behaviour.

Legion ladies to hold "Ladies Beware" program

On Wednesday, February 15, the Ladies Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 271, St. Albert are sponsoring a "Ladies Beware" program. The program is open to the public and the ladies are looking forward to filling the auditorium with ladies and gentlemen. The latter group will be interested as it concerns the safety of their families, as well as the prevention of crime.

The RCMP will be represented by Constable Ross Gilmore, the medical profession by Dr. H. E. Albrecht and the legal profession by Mrs. Janet Franklin. Psychologist Dr. D. F. Merchant will be present, as well as two representatives from the Rape Crisis Centre in Edmonton.

Admission will be free and refreshments will be served. In your own best interests, please attend.

Linda MacPhee will demonstrate mukluk, moccasin construction

Moccasins and mukluks are enjoying a resurgence of popularity, particularly in crafts circles. St. Albert and area residents will have an opportunity to observe the process of making these novel footgear items when a demonstration is staged at the Bookshelf, in the Professional Building, St. Anne Street, St. Albert. The event will take place Saturday, January 28 from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Conducting the demonstration will be Linda MacPhee, a teacher presently conducting the "All Things Bright and Beautiful" course for the City of St. Albert Community Services Department. Linda also has been conducting workshops in Toymaking, Mukluk construction and Eskimo Parka construction.

Linda's varied career has given her a wide background in crafts. She obtained a degree in Home Economics and a teaching certificate from the University of Alberta, and worked as district home economist with Alberta Agriculture in Peace River and High Prairie for five years. While working with native women in the High Prairie region she became interested in working with leather and learned much about it. Ms. MacPhee appears on the weekly crafts program "Jo Green and Company," seen on CBC Edmonton.

Parish kindergarten asking for board help

The Parish Kindergarten is hoping to maintain its present centralized form and is looking to the Catholic School Board for assistance.

Provincial grants covering transportation for the kindergarten will run out at the end of the current school year which means the group will be operating less the $30,000.

The group lost their right to the transportation grant when St. Albert changed status from town to city.

The kindergarten presently charges a $10 fee per pupil per year. Mr. Zuk said it would cost about $18 per pupil per month if the Parish Kindergarten financed its own program.

Walter Zuk, chairman of the Parish Kindergarten, said if no aid was forthcoming from the board and the kindergarten was forced to decentralize it would likely disband. In that case the school board would be in the position of operating the kindergarten.

Members feel the kindergarten has been very effective in providing a service to the community in an educational way as well as bringing about greater parent involvement.

Trustee Manegre said he felt the group did not look as closely at the possibility of decentralizing as possible and Deputy Superintendent, George Soetaert agreed that although the group presented a well prepared paper a little more time could have been spent looking at the positive side of decentralization.

Mr. Zuk replied that the committee involved in making the presentation did not have the facilities to compare costs of centralization versus decentralization. They also need to know the Board's decision on housing and busing of students next year because this will have an effect on alternatives.

Board members referred the matter to the Finance Committee for further study.

Help Society to hold annual meeting

Many of us bemoan the fate of the ill, the old and the shut-in. However, few of us take positive action on these social problems.

St. Albert citizens will have the opportunity to delve into these issues if they attend the annual meeting of the St. Albert Help Society on Monday, January 30 at 8 p.m. in the City Hall Annex.

The Help Society sponsors the Mother's Day Out program, Meals on Wheels, and the Homemaker Service. Citizens interested in these areas are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

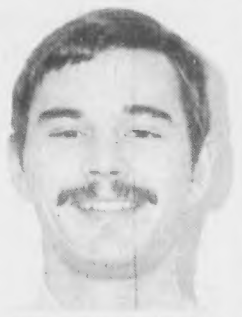
New faces at RCMP office

The St. Albert RCMP detachment has a new man in charge of community relations.

Constable Ross Gilmore has taken over the position from Constable John MacDonald who has recently transferred to Edmonton.

At present, Ross, who has been with the St. Albert detachment three years, is learning the ropes of community relations work. Schools or other community groups and organizations are invited to ask Ross by to discuss topics of concern. They may do so by dropping him a line at the RCMP office on Sir Winston Churchill Avenue.



CONST. ROSS GILMORE

Information on the 'Lady Beware,' 'Neighbourhood Watch', 'Operation Identification' programs, etc. may also be obtained by contacting Constable Gilmore.

Ross has been with the force five years, serving in Olds and Redwater, before being transferred to St. Albert.

Sergeant Jim Eddleston is the St. Albert detachment's new NCO in charge of traffic.

Jim took over his duties December 1 after transferring in from Pincher Creek.

Air Cadets enjoy winter exercise

Air Cadets in Review
St. Albert R.C.A.
C Squadron No. 533

If fun can be measured by stacks of wet clothing, then it is reasonable to state that the Camp Wright Winter Outing was a tremendous success. A group of officers and civilian instructors left Friday to ready the camp for Saturday's arrival of #533 Squadron. Despite the early hour, an enthusiastic group of cadets, officers and staff boarded the bus at 0700 hrs., and gear comprising of sleeping bags, snowshoes, skis, skates etc., was loaded on a DND truck.

Arrival at camp found cadets ready for action and after roll call stowing of gear to assigned quarters and general camp rules outline, cadets were given the opportunity to use their skills, skates or just look around.

A large area was cleared on the lake for skating, as well as many mysterious patchs in various directions. We think the person behind the snowblower got carried away in his ventures. Cadets also dug holes for icefishing, but after much trying and many hours decided their must be no fish in the lake as no one managed to have any luck.

Entertainment Saturday evening was put on by the cadets, in the form of skits. After these and a late snack most retired to quarters to try drying some of their belongings. Articles of all shapes and sizes were found hanging from beds, lockers etc., hopefully to be found reasonably dry to carry on activities Sunday. Camp patrol kept things in order Saturday night, even though some of them looked like they should have stayed in bed. Although he was seen walking around, it is questionable whether a particular F/Sgt., ever did wake during his shift.

Two of the younger civilian instructors, Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Cady did a great job putting the cadets through their paces in sports and games, and were even able to keep up.

As usual the canteen did a brisk business, keeping cadets from starvation between meals. After lunch Sunday, cleaning up, packing and readying the camp for departure was on. Cadets boarded the bus for home and were much quieter on the way back as most needed the rest.

All who participated had a tremendous weekend, even the weather co-operated with sunny skies and mild temperatures. Because of the organization, dedication and enthusiasm of #533 cadets, officers and staff, it was one of the best exercises undertaken by this Squadron.

is a high school carnival trophy.

If you fancy your talents in the field of ice sculpture the carnival offers you a chance to flaunt them. This is a school and ice sculpture contest and it will take place at the Lions Park Saturday, February 11 from 9 in the morning till 4 p.m. Entries should be submitted to your school staff rep by February 7th.

The Lions will have carnival buttons on sale - cost $1.00 and the button gives all day admission to day time carnival events. There is no concession service without the button and the "sheriff" may arrest all persons without a button. Buttons are available from participating schools, Beta Sigma Phi members and at the Lions Park during the carnival.

Schools with the most aggregate points in a number of carnival events can win a trophy. Ten points will be awarded in the burger contest, also for the queen contest, a hockey game, cross country ski events and the sculpture contest.

The carnival will also feature an "After Glow" cabaret in the St. Albert Community Hall Friday, February 10 at 9 p.m. Tickets will be $5 each, with music by the Starlites. Tickets can be had from Sturgeon D & A, Esso Bulk, Hutchings Shoes and Breakfast Lions members.

For further information on the carnival please call Tom Flynn at 459-5611 or Lorne Johnson at 474-6451.

Of life insurance purchases by Canadians during 1976, cash-value life insurance accounted for 39 percent of the amount of individual policy purchases and term insurance or temporary term additions to existing contracts accounted for 61 percent. By comparison, in 1970 term insurance and term additions accounted for 55 percent of individual life insurance purshases by amount.

The Gazette REFLECTS

THE SOVIETIZATION OF ST. ALBERT

Joe Sheckter, president of a big company which has been trying to develop a shopping center for St. Albert residents over the past seven years, must be wondering why his forbears ever made the flight from Soviet Russia to the "free" West.

For Mr. Sheckter is up against a government body which is in its own way as formidable as any Soviet bureaucracy calculated to make men into sheep.

That body is St. Albert council.

Most people know that there was a revolution in Russia in 1917; everything went topsy turvy and if you had any land it was the same as not having it, for the state took unto itself the powers of determining the fate of the land irrespective of who owned it.

If you own land you expect that you will have the major say in how it is developed and Mr. Sheckter had earmarked the land in question as a shopping center for the people of St. Albert.

What has happened to that land over the past few years reads like a story; not from the free west but the steppes of Russia or the Siberian bush.

The land in question about 45 acres of it owned by Mr. Sheckter between Hebert Road and the St. Albert Trail, seems a logical place for a large regional type shopping center. But the fate of it seems already to have been determined not by Mr. Sheckter, but by people who only assume power once every three years.

First the land was determined as a special study area, virtually frozen, while over the past several years, St. Albert councils and administrations knowingly or unknowingly outflanked Mr. Sheckter by approving piecemeal commercial developments, played around with other shopping center proposals and denied themselves good tax revenue from a proposal which financiers described as economically viable.

Changes in the assessment and tax base recently have penalized the landowner with an average 3,000 percent increase in taxes from $450 to $12,000 in specific figures.

Meanwhile about $100,000 in studies and planning have been spent on the viability of the Sheckter lands by the city planning department; yet this money has been effectively squandered since St. Albert has made a commitment to Abacus Cities and their regional shopping center, as well as a commitment to develop the downtown core, and this long after the original shopping center proposal from Shelter Resources for the site south of Hebert Road.

Mr. Sheckter points out that if St. Albert had allowed his development to go ahead seven years ago, they would already have received $250,000 in taxes from it last year alone.

"Something is rotten but it's not in Denmark, you do not have to go that far for it," says Mr. Sheckter.

Last Friday, city council, convening again because they could not get through their business in good time at the regular meeting the previous Monday, stalled on the Sheckter lands yet again. The motion to approve the 225,000 square foot shopping center was defeated, but with, perhaps to their credit, Alderman Roger Ayotte and Mayor Ron Harvey supporting the proposal. Two other alternatives for the land use were not approved and the whole issue, now a seven year saga, is back in the limbo of the Municipal Planning Commission and "referral to staff."

No wonder Mr. Sheckter made the rather brilliant remark that Einstein had spent less time formulating his Theory of Relativity than the city had taken to decide the fate of his land.

Judging from the evidence no Einsteins are likely to emerge from St. Albert council; they haven't in the past and they won't in the future.

Ratepayers reply to school vandalism

Re: Article Jan. 18th "Parents Pay Costs of Vandalism in School"

I have just finished reading several theories on "what to do when the vandals strike again," - Gazette - January 18 - E. Gish. Good, I'm glad that someone recognizes the fact that vandalism in the schools (I'm speaking mainly of District No. 6) is alive, well and flourishing in St. Albert. This is not to mention frequent break-ins and the graphic, illustrative writings on the school walls of who does what to whom and what everyone else can do and where they can go to.

Who said illiteracy is a major problem in the schools? The elementary students seem to have no problem reading what is written all over their school walls. Oh yes, there was the matter of excretement splattered (Id rather not suggest the method of applying same) all over one of the school doors one morning; plus numerous broken windows. The list could go on forever?

I fail to understand why the subject was dropped. Why? Why are we, the taxpayers playing "defense" in this senseless and somewhat expensive game? Why is there not an electronic alarm system installed in our schools that would be sensitive enough to keep vandals from even thinking of going near the schools after hours? I know it will cost money, but so does replacement and repair. How many times does the "barn door" get closed too late?

Quite frankly, I feel that our tax dollar could go further in an offensive game, rather than the position we are in now. Initially, the outlay would be expensive, but over a period of years - not even that period of time - it would definitely pay for itself.

It's time we got off our complacent rear ends and started being sensible about a disease that is not being cured on its own. Enough is enough - I'm tired of my money being used for "mopping up" the damage again. It's heartbreaking to come into school and find another signature left in the name of "fun" again.

I hope that our school board will wake up to the fact that its about time something was done - electronic, photo alarm - something other than what we have. A security guard is fine except our schools are pretty well spread apart in the city and what protection does the guard have? Armed? Dog?

Please, lets get going!

[Mrs.] Ann Hayden.
St. Albert.

I am writing concerning your editorial "Parents to Suffer Costs of Vandalism" pages one and two dated January 18, 1978.

I am a parent residing in St. Albert with five children in the Protestant school system and another child in school in Edmonton. My taxes in St. Albert are already almost double those of a comparable parent in Edmonton. Therefore I hope you can understand my reactions on reading your article. These are:

1. Everyone again pays for the faults of the few. Where is the fairness of this situation?

2. Relating our situation to that of the U.S.A. is ridiculous. The population is over 10-1 in favour of the U.S.A. yet you are demanding 20 to 35 percent of what they supposedly pay for vandalism. But keep in mind - it is common for vandalism to increase with population density.

3. Utilize our taxes better to re-enforce our police department for better surveillance.

4. Replace the curfew full-time as it is obvious there are a great many parents who don't know or care where their children are after hours. By this I don't mean to put the vandalism blame on the younger children alone but a curfew would certainly help curtail their activities.

I feel Mr. Penner's ideas of fairness are quite wrong unless he is very well-to-do or has no children in the Protestant school system.

You also state "The question of whether an incident is an accident or negligence will be up to the particular school administration." Do I have to pay for someone else's carelessness?

I've noticed several businesses have found a cure for some of their losses - signs stating "We break - we cry; you break - you buy." By this I mean: if the persons are caught he or she should not be slapped with a small fine, they should pay for the total costs.

I agree with having the vandal repair his own damage. If professionals are required they should be hired but if dirty words need to be scrubbed off a wall and a small paint job done let the vandal do it. Many jobs don't require a professional so the unions shouldn't cry about losing a dime here or there and I feel more good can be done by having the vandal repair the damage than by hiring a professional for every job.

Personally I'm tired of being the scapegoat for other citizens and/or their offspring who are already taking a tremendous amount of my wages to support them and that which they do in breaking the law.

I strongly object to this decision made by the Protestant school trustees and invite anyone else who also objects to make their objections known.

W. H. Gunn,
St. Albert.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The reference to the cost of vandalism in U.S. school districts was not intended for comparison with local figures. At any rate the $3 (or $6) figure was on a per student basis not all members of the population. Mr. Gunn also seems to have misinterpreted the story, which may, or may not have been the fault of the Gazette. The motion passed by District 6 trustees was directed at collecting payment from the individuals involved in incidents of vandalism or negligence rather than have all ratepayers bear the burden.

Thanks paramedics!

I would like to thank the paramedics and firemen of St. Albert for their rescue on December 15, 1977 when my car was hit by a train.

It took quite a while to get me out of the car and I have nothing but praise for the professionalism and consideration given to me during that time.

I am also grateful to St. Albert for initiating such a program as the Paramedic Squad. They are a valuable asset to the patient and the firemen.

Lessie Anderson
St. Albert.

Please tell us your name!

The Gazette would like to ask the person who wrote the letter "The Road to Bankruptcy," signed only "A concerned ratepayer" to contact the newspaper and supply us with their name and address.

Gazette policy is to publish only those letters which have this information, and the letter was so well written and pertinent that the Gazette regrets the letter will have to remain unpublished till the writer ends the anonymity.

Citizen of the year

Guide movement. For 20 years, as leader of Brownies, Guides and Rangers she has helped to instill in her young charges those ideals of healthful living, resourcefulness service to mankind and love of God, with which the Boy Scout - Girl Guide associations identify. Many adult young women today testify to the inspiration of Pauline's guidance during the often difficult years of growing up and finding a useful niche in society.

"Latterly, Pauline's wealth of experience in this field has led her increasingly into administrative duties and adult leadership training. She has assisted the provincial association in such matters as selection and preparation of campsites, and reforms of uniform and other policies. She served in 1970 as commissioner of the St. Albert Division and is currently deputy commissioner of the "Tamarac" Area which includes within its boundaries such widely scattered districts as Smoky Lake, Athabasca, Slave Lake, Fox Creek Whitecourt, Stony Plain and St. Albert.

Her first aid classes for the member groups have led to an increasingly active role with the St. John's Ambulance Society and she is currently conducting a course in First Aid for adults.

"She has encouraged her young charges to participate in humanitarian activities beyond the scope of their own age group. Pauline, herself involved in voluntary duties at the Youville Home, has often encouraged the presence of her girls in concerts, teas and rehabilitation projects. In conjunction with the Marian Centre they have assisted in the collection of goods for the less fortunate, including toys and money for Indian communities at the Christmas season.

"An active member of Le Cercle Francophone she has given time to historical research of those aspects of multiculturism that help to make St. Albert a unique community. She is likewise an active and dedicated member of her parish.

"Pauline is well known for the high standards she sets for herself and others. There is no room in her sphere of interest for less than one hundred percent effort and efficiency. We are pleased to learn that Pauline is enrolled in University program specializing in psychology and administration.

"The St. Albert Chamber of Commerce is happy to welcome Pauline Vaugeois as a most worthy recipient of the Citizen of the Year Award. We wish you well in your studies and hope you may inspire us with many more years of dedicated service."

The award to Pauline was given by the last Citizen of the Year Hettie Blades.

Chairman of the Citizen of the Year Committee Paul Chalifoux, who is also principal of St. Albert High School, spoke of the difficulty of choosing the citizen of the year.

Bob Arnold did his usual excellent job of emceeing the proceedings.

Also during the evening which was followed by a dance, Bill Tchir formally became past-president of the St. Albert and District Chamber of Commerce and made way for the new president Roger Lemieux who was sworn in by Mayor of St. Albert Ron Harvey. The new chamber executive was also introduced to the public.

Mr. Chalifoux paid a special compliment to one former citizen of the year the deceased Dr. Bill Cuts who kept the title on his own doorstep from 1965 till 1969 when the title went to Lorraine Moore.

What Caught Our Eye

CHILDREN'S VIEW ON AGING

The following letters have been reprinted from the Alberta Council on Aging News. They are written by students at the East Edmonton Christian School, grades one to eight. From the letters, it would appear that some youngsters have a more realistic and compassionate picture of aging than some adults. However, their idea of when old age occurs may cause some winces!

I think old people aren't that bad sometimes. They are very grumpy at times and very tired so they have to take naps. But they usually, if related, remember your birthday etc. by sending cards. Old people are OK but I don't think it's good for them to be cooped up in an old age home. People 55 and over I call old. Old people should try and stay active. In an old age home I think it probably makes them feel older than if they're living out in the community somewhere. If old people keep active they'll probably feel a lot younger.

Audrey -- Grade 7

My brother John is 22. He usually isn't home too much because he is in Calvin College. My brother John is 6' 6". He seems old to me because he can ride a car and go to college and finish a very hard book in one day and he knows a lot more than me and goes to college and can have a job.

Glenn -- Grade 4

I think old people need to be useful. They don't just want to sit there and stare at something. They want to use their hands, like knitting, gardening and crocheting. I don't think its right to force old people to go to senior citizens homes. Old people also like visitors and love seeing their grandchildren also. Old people care for things and I think that everybody likes their grandparents and they're usually very old. Old people are very nice and considerate and I think they're neat.

Jo -- Grade 7

Old people are nice sometimes. Some old people don't talk much, and they just sit at home doing nothing. Usually the age which is considered old is 65 & older. Old age homes are for old people who don't have enough money to live by themselves in a house or apartment suite. Old people usually have wrinkles, unless they use oil of olay. Sometimes if you live by an old person in the winter they will ask if you can shovel their sidewalks. If an old person goes shopping they usually need help with their groceries. If you have grandparents you will probably get treated a lot because older people usually like having younger people around. Some old people start talking to themselves if they are lonely. If some old people have pets or lots of plants they start talking to them. Some old people are lonely and they start drinking so they are alcoholics and they are even lonelier. Some old people are nice some aren't.

Tony -- Grade 7

I think that some old people are very nice. I work for 3 old ladies. I do their lawns in the summer and sidewalks in the winter. They enjoy it so much that they pay me for it. I think old means when you are above 50 years of age. I like these 3 ladies the best because they talk to me and they love me. I think old people are very kind to you if you are kind to them. That's a fact!

LENGTHY RESEARCH ENDS IN AMAZING FIND!
From the Washington Monthly

The value of government research is constantly being demonstrated. For example, three chemists at the National Bureau of Standards recently completed an 18-month study to find what would remove graffiti from public buildings. The study found that liquid paint removers will do the job best. That astounding conclusion was followed by the word that the next best removers are well-known household and industrial cleaners.

Open meetings thwarted

states that the board must keep available a record of all proceedings of committees of the board. It does not say to whom the record is available.

It is trustee Manegre's opinion that the public should be welcome to any committee meeting. If matters of a confidential nature arise - i.e. salary negotiations, land acquisition, private staff problems, etc., then the committee can move 'in camera'. Mr. Manegre felt it would be better board policy to presume committee meetings were open in a spirit of better communication.

With the vote on the motion going 3-1 against (Trustee Ann Smith was absent) the only recourse appears to be another interpretation of Section 47. At the moment Mr. Manegre has not decided what his next move will be, but he did point out that a reinterpretation of the Municipal Government Act caused Edmonton City Council to open its committee meetings.

Trustee Shirley McCaffery has been conducting the same battle for open meetings of the Protestant School District, but so far has met with little success.

At least 41 Minor Hockey coaches were at the St. Albert Kinsmen regular meeting Monday night in the St. Albert Inn to get briefed on the coming "Skate-a-thon '78" which will take place February 19. Locations are the St. Albert arena, Perron Street and the new arena, Hebert Road. Pledge cards are available from hockey coaches or by phoning 458-1111, or ask any St. Albert Kinsmen.

Community Services Report

Submitted by Community Services

Now that the dust is settling and we are nearing the end of registrations for our winter programs, we find that there are still openings in some classes. Please refer to the ad in this paper as to what is available and how you may go about registering for those classes. By the way, there is still room for lots of kids activities.

As classes begin next week, we are asking that you have your registration in before Friday, January 27.

QUILTING SHOW

Students past and present of the various quilting classes are presenting a show "Quilts, Quilts and Quilting." The show will run January 26 through to January 29 at the Arts Centre on Sunset Boulevard, behind the tennis courts. Opening night will be Thursday at 7 p.m. Other show times are: Friday 7 - 9 p.m., Saturday 1 - 4 p.m. and Sunday 1 - 4 p.m.

Items from tea cozies to large bed covers will be featured at this interesting and colourful show, so be sure to come out and see what is "new" in this traditional craft.

MINI BASKETBALL

A free throw competition is being held under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus mini basketball program. This competition is open to anyone between the ages of 11 to 14 years and is being held at Sir George Simpson Junior High on Sunday, January 29 between 1 and 4 p.m. Anyone interested in entering this competition should contact our recreation program supervisor, Mr. Richard Mercier at 459-6601 for further details.

BADMINTON

Members of the Sturgeon Valley Badminton Club are advised that Friday night play has resumed at Vital Grandin school from 8 to 11 p.m. The following evenings are cancelled due to school activities: Friday, February 3, and Monday, February 13.

CROSS COUNTRY SKIING

The St. Albert Nordic Ski Club's beginners' clinic being held on January 27, 28 and 29 is fully subscribed. Those who have registered should note that the indoor session on Friday, January 27 will be held in V.J. Maloney School. The location for the outdoor sessions on January 28 and 29 depend on the weather and snow conditions and will be decided 'ater.

Sylvia Peterson - 459-7977 will be glad to hear from anyone interested in taking in a beginners' clinic before the end of the season. There have been two already and another one may be arranged if there is sufficient interest.

Members of the Club should watch out for an announcement about a film to be shown in the near future.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Constable Gilmore from the local RCMP detachment will be at the Centre (north of the curling rink) on Thursday, January 26 at around 12:30 p.m. when he will be giving a talk which is bound to be of interest to seniors.

Everyone is welcome to come and hear this talk which follows the weekly lunch served on Thursdays through the meals-on-wheels program. Phone Hettie Blades at 459-4756 for information about the meals-on-wheels program.

Seniors (both ladies and gentlemen) are reminded of the choir practices which are held on Mondays at 1:30 p.m. New members will be made very welcome by this enthusiastic group.

The "Almost New" shop will be open at the Centre on Saturday, January 28 from 1 - 4 p.m. Bernie Vaugeois, who is in charge of this operation, is always glad of assistance. Phone her at 459-6273 to find out how you can help.

Bernie and Morris Vaugeois were at the Chamber of Commerce annual banquet on January 21 when their daughter, Pauline, became St. Albert's Citizen of the Year for 1977. This is a great honour and all seniors will wish to share with Pauline's parents their natural pride in their daughter's achievement.

A bingo will be held on Tuesday, January 31 at 1:30 p.m. with cards on the following Tuesday at the same time.

The social afternoon held on January 22 was enjoyed equally by members of the club and by members of the Historical Society who hosted it. Material is being collected with a view to publishing a history of St. Albert at a future date and there was an exchange of some very useful information.

EDUCATION COMMENT

French Canadian authors and books coming

A well known Quebec author Yves Theriault will be among those taking part in the "Salon du Livre Canadien d'expression francaise" to be held at the College Universitaire Saint-Jean (8406 - 91 Street) from February 1 - February 4. The Salon will feature a display of over 3000 French Canadian Books sponsored by over 50 publishing houses, as well as book releases of Franco Canadian poetry by Alberta authors Jean Pariseau and Guy Pariseau.

Other invited guests who will be taking part in the activities will be Bernadette Renaud of Montreal, Quebec award-winning author of the Governor General Award for Children's Literature and Father Germain Lemieux, director of the Centre Franco-Ontarien de Folklore at the Laurentian University in Sudbury, and author of several volumes of French Canadian Legends.

French films will also be featured during the Salon, with the premiere on February 2, at 8 p.m. of a National Film Board Franco-Albertan film: "C'est l'nom d'la game," directed by local artist Sylvia Van Brabant. French films on French-Canadian authors will be shown continuously throughout the exposition from 10 a.m. every morning, commencing February 2. French films for children will be shown from 1 to 3 p.m. on Saturday. In addition, there will be displays of audio-visual teaching materials in French, with workshops on their implementation in the classroom for Alberta teachers given by the National Film Board and SECAS.

People interested in purchasing books will be able to do so from the personnel of the French bookstore "Le Carrefour" who will be on hand throughout the exposition.

For further information, please call Sylvia Landry or Midge Nickolchuk at 466-2196.

New chairman for Athabasca University

Dr. A. E. Hohol, minister of Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower, has announced the appointment of an Edmonton lawyer as chairman of the Interim Governing Authority of Athabasca University in Edmonton.

The new chairman, Kenneth J. Chapman, is a partner in the law firm of Ogilvie and Company.

During the summer of 1972, Mr. Chapman was retained by the Worth Commission as a consultant. He assisted in organizing a study group to monitor high school and post-secondary student reaction to the Worth Report on Educational Planning. He presented the findings of the group to the Cabinet Committee on Education.

In the past, Mr. Chapman has worked with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation as a freelance journalist for regional and national television, and for school and youth programming. He has assisted in the production and direction of a number of television programs and local concerts. At present, Mr. Chapman is the president of Northern Lights Theatre.

Committees set for learning project

Education Minister Julian Koziak has announced the appointment of advisory and steering committees for the Alberta Heritage Learning Resour project.

The advisory committee, responsible for advising on the criteria under which selections will be made for the Alberta Heritage Books for young readers, the Alberta Heritage Books for Youth, and the Alberta Heritage Books for Senior Students and Adults, will be chaired by the Honourable Dr. Grant MacEwan, formerly Lieutenant Governor of Alberta and a well known author.

The advisory committee will be meeting within the next three weeks to advise the steering committee regarding selection of publications.

The steering committee which provides specific directions for the project will be chaired by Dr. Ken Nixon, project director.

Three managing editors have been appointed to supervise, selection, writing, editing, lay-out, printing and binding. The managing editor for Alberta Heritage Books for Young Readers will be Dr. Al Mitchner, seconded from the Edmonton Public School District where he was social studies department head of Harry Ainlay High School.

For the Alberta Heritage Series for Youth, the managing editor will be Miss Theresa Ford, seconded from the Edmonton Roman Catholic Separate School District where she was supervisor of Language Arts.

Managing Editor of the Alberta Heritage Series for Senior Students and Adults will be Mr. William Lockhart, seconded from the Edmonton Regional Office of Alberta Education.

The series are major components of the $8.37 million learning resources investment announced as part of the capital projects division of the Alberta Heritage Trust Fund last October to assure the provision of Canadian content in Alberta schools.

The 16 Canadian Social Studies kits, Junior Atlas and Relief Map, and colour slide sets of Alberta Flora and Fauna are being completed by the Curriculum Branch of Alberta Education.

Media accused of improper use of statistics

Professional marketing and social research groups may be looking to self-regulation in order to avoid the possibility of government regulation.

They feel one method of acheiving better control over research standards would be to educate the advertising and editorial personnel of the broadcast and print media. They would show how some studies and polls are not legitimate research, but only random samples without scientific credentials.

A media program is being embarked upon which will hopefully result in solving some of the problems existing in the execution of research studies, the interpretation of data, and the way in which research findings are expressed by the media.

The program will involve face-to-face meetings with broadcast, magazine, business journal and newspaper representatives, and has been prompted by a number of cases in which casual samples and unscientific data have been passed off as research in both advertising and news reports.

This is not unexpected, because research is a growing industry that has attained a high degree of credibility in a few short years.

John C. Robertson, director of standards for the Canadian Association of Marketing Research Companies, says, "the industry has grown so much in the last 10 or 15 years, that if we don't police ourselves, then someone else will." The media's use and reporting of pre-election polls is one area in which there is prospect of legal controls, he said.

The media's description of a sample is one of the main problem areas, he said. The marketing groups are prepared to provide advice to the media at no charge on how to describe research and use it if this is what they need to present it in a proper way, Mr. Robertson said.

Other matters the marketing groups hope to raise with the media include the misrepresentation of surveys or research studies by salesmen, the violation of privacy through use of research data, and the use of surveys in evolving government policies and later evaluating them.

Heat from fire to extract oil

By Joe Dary

Amoco Canada Petroleum Co. Ltd. will start a fire on its oil-sands lease near Fort McMurray this fall as part of a $46 million in-situ (in place) pilot project.

Company officials say the insitu recovery method is the only way oil can be removed from sands located too far below the surface to be reached by current strip-mining techniques employed by Great Canadian Oil Sands Ltd. and Syncrude Canada Ltd.

David Sandmeyer, Edmonton-area production superintendent, said the method involves combustion below ground near the deposit to heat the oil to a point where it can be removed through traditional oil wells.

Compressed air will be injected into the formation 850 feet to 1,110 feet below the ground and then ignited for a pre-heating stage which will take about a year.

The heat generated by the fire-smoke will not be visible-will produce steam and pressure to separate the heavy oil from the sands which cling to it. The oil can then be pumped to the surface.

The project, to cost $70 million if carried through to 1984, will simulate large-scale production techniques using 25 wells on a 22.5-acre parcel.

The wells are drilled in a square-block pattern, with nine injection wells and 16 recovery or production wells. Compressed air will be forced through the injection wells into the formation before the fire is lighted. There will be four production wells to each injection well on a 2.5-acre block.

Air will be pumped into the formation to keep the fire going for months and keep the sands heated to about 95 degrees Celsius-the temperature previous experiments have shown permits oil to start flowing out of the sands.

After enough of the producing zone has been heated to an adequate temperature, production will begin from the production wells located about 200 feet away.

Using Amoco's patented "Cofcaw" process, the next process stage will probably begin in 1979.

The process begins when formation pressures are reduced to a reasonably low level and involves burning oil in place, pushing the fire through the formation and injecting air behind the fire. Water is injected through the fire to create steam to carry heat energy into the sands.

Anticipated production should exceed 1,000 barrels of bitumen or heavy oil daily. The bitumen will not be processed on site but will be trucked to upgrading plants.

The project, to be jointly undertaken by the Alberta Oil Sands Technology and Research Authority, a provincial government agency, Amoco and Pacific Petroleums Ltd., is the result of 21 years of research by Amoco.

In 1956 laboratory experiments showed oil could be produced if the sand formation was heated to reduce the viscosity or thickness of the oil.

Two years later Amoco began field work on its lease with the drilling of two wells 100 feet apart. They confirmed that sufficient flow capacity existed.

In 1959 tests showed spontaneous combustion of the formation was not a problem but sand control was. The fine sand left behind after the oil was removed could clog equipment. Special heat-resistant tubing and casing were required.

Other phases showed that wells must be drilled within 250 feet of each other to maintain the link between the injection and production wells.

The project will operate until 1980, when the operation will be reviewed to determine whether the in-situ method is commercially viable.

Fraser Allen, Amoco Canada president, said 1982 is the earliest possible date on which a decision could be made to build a large-scale plant. Such a plant would not begin operating until 1990 and would produce 100,000 barrels daily.

Sandmeyer said a plant of that size would cost about $1.5 billion at current prices and require 10,500 production and induction wells on a 12,900-acre parcel.

Third star rating for UFO show

CLOSE ENCOUNTERS OF THE THIRD KIND
ODEON I, EDMONTON
By Jim McIntyre

Following so hard on the heels of "Star Wars" this latest space epic is sure to have a good following particularly from UFO buffs.

No UFO buff myself I have to admit that I was impressed with the special effects department which drove the point of this film home.

Even as children we have always been brought up to think that out in the great beyond there are beings who love us; these we have commonly thought of as "guardian angels."

However, as the film moves to its climax, our first encounter with these beings is somewhat horrific; they have none of the beauty which is the mark of the Great Creator: some of them look as if they have endured umpteen nuclear holocausts yet still have managed to come out smiling. They do smile and they are for the most part well intentioned and that is cause for optimism and wonder.

The story line and acting in this imaginative exploration of the world of the UFO is not very convincing so the less said about that the better.

Reminiscent of some tales from the Bermuda Triangle, a number of Second World War pilots have been spirited away by these "beings, their planes left behind intact and we meet up with them again in happier circumstances.

Strange happenings and sightings in the sky soon have the whole of America on its toes and final contact with the beings in the UFO squadrons is made via a music signal, a glorified symphonic version of the CBC's meep meeep meep meeee station identification pattern.

The music for the ultimate connection with a Super UFO and its crews is spell binding and there is a genuine sense of the mystic as the "New Jerusalem" comes down from Heaven to pick some lucky ones for a return trip into the far reaches of the universe.

That is not an exaggeration of the finale of this film; it is pure fantasy, but it is good and it is moral.

The film is weak though, as there is too much travail before the grand finale which knocks it down from a five star to a three star rating.

Sound of music returns to convocation hall!

Convocation Hall at the University of Alberta is ready to return to its position as a mecca for music enthusiasts.

Renovations to the venerable hall will be nearly completed by the end of January and the university's department of music has scheduled concerts for February 1 and 2. As well, the opera A Midsummer Night's Dream will be presented there February 10 and 11 at 8 p.m. by the department's voice/opera division.

Numerous other concerts and recitals have been scheduled for the period February 3 to April 30.

Convocation Hall, closed for renovations in January, 1977, was used extensively during the 1960's and 1970's by the department for various musical events which were open to the general public. That will now resume.

During the decades following its construction as part of the Arts Building in 1915, Convocation Hall was the locale for lectures, exam writing sessions, convocations, memorial services and theatrical events.

As a result of the renovation work, the hall boasts improved acoustical, heating, air conditioning and electrical systems; an expanded stage area; and a new floor. All this was accomplished with the basic design of the hall preserved.

Due to delays in the installation of a new memorial organ, the official reopening ceremonies will not be held until the fall of 1978.

The first concert, on Wednesday, February 1, will feature the Aeolian Players in an evening of traditional and contemporary chamber music. The concert, which is sponsored by the Edmonton Chamber Music Society, will begin at 8:30 p.m. Admission is by series membership, available from the society.

On Thursday, February 2, at 8 p.m., the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra will be the guests of the department of music in the first of a series of concerts. During the series, department of music staff and performance organizations will perform less familiar works.

Pianist Helmut Brauss will be guest soloist for the opening concert and will perform Hindemith's Theme and Variations.

The Enchanted Lake Opus 62 by Liadov, Incontri for 24 Instruments by Nono, Serenata by Walter Piston, and Divertimento for Orchestra by Professor Violet Archer of the department of music will be performed by the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra.

The concert is open to the public.

The next concert in the series is set for Thursday, March 23 at 8 p.m. It will offer works by Schafer, Barber, Stravinsky, Stockhausen, Roussel and Walton.

Theatre 3 campaign results go to Ottawa

During the extended run of Godspell, Theatre 3, as a member of the Professional Association of Canadian Theatres (PACT), has waged a local campaign designed to dramatize the extend of local support for professional theatre to the Federal Government. Over 700 people signed a petition that reads, "We strongly urge Government to increase its support and lead the way for encouraging the further and very necessary support from the corporate and private sector."

Theatre 3 General Manager Stephen Gentles will attend the annual meeting of Pact in Ottaway on February 20 and 21, at which all participating theatres will consolidate the responses of their local component of the national Awareness Campaign.

Many Theatre 3 patrons also signed post cards that will be forwarded to the Secretary of State, and to the MP for the area in which the theatre is located, in the hope that this kind of personalized pressure will succeed in making the Government aware of the critical situation in which theatre find themselves.

For several seasons now, Canadian theatres have had their grants from the Federal Government frozen, despite increased operational costs. It is hoped that by pointing out the broad base of community support for professional theatre, Pact will encourage the Government to increase operational grants to keep pace with theatrical expenses.

Audiences at Theatre 3 who may not yet have signed the petition, will have the opportunity to do so during the current production of Play Strindberg which runs until January 28.

Olive Finland receives Silver Jubilee Medal

Olive Finland, retired general manager of the Citadel Theatre, has been awarded the Canadian Silver Jubilee Medal, by Governor General Jules Leger.

The award of the Medal is an expression of appreciation of worthy and devoted service rendered by the recipients in their various walks of life and the esteem in which they are held by their associates.

Mrs. Finland was appointed general manager of the Citadel in 1966, and oversaw the Citadel's growth from a 275-seat theatre with subscribers numbering 1300, to its installation in a beautiful new theatre seating a subscription audience of 14,000. She retired in 1976.

Her extensive career has benefited many arts and volunteer organizations such as the Edmonton Symphony, the Commonwealth Games Foundation, and health organizations.

During the summer of 1977 she gave freely of her time, talent and incredible energy to see the "Sunshine Theatre" in Kelowna, B.C. establish itself as a full fledged professional theatre offering a complete season of plays throughout the summer months in the Okanagan Valley. This summer theatre operation achieved an unprecedented success and has become an integral part of the attractions offered to summer visitors and the community of Kelowna, its surrounding area, and indeed the entire Okanagan Valley in British Columbia.

A few months ago Mrs. Finland returned to the Citadel temporarily as publicity manager ... recently turned that post over to Natalie Chapman, and has now assumed the position of fund raising co-ordinator, an area in which she has great expertise.

St. Albert Arts & Crafts Guild News

January is for the birds! All members are currently working on birds in various media in preparation for the show to be held February 23 to 26 at the Arts and Crafts Gallery.

This month a four-day quilting exhibit will be held in the Arts and Crafts Gallery beginning January 26. Called "Quilts Old and New," it will feature contemporary quilting as well as traditional styles. Hours for the exhibit will be 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. on January 26 and 27 and 1 to 4 p.m. on January 28 and 29.

The Weavers will be presenting two interesting events in February. On February 2, at 7:30 p.m. in the Arts Centre, Verna Allenby will present a slide show featuring pictures taken at the Pacific Northwest Handweavers' Guild Conference that was held in Victoria this past June.

Also at the Arts Centre, on February 16, at 7:30 p.m., Odette Perreault will be demonstrating La Fleche weaving (French finger weaving). Those who wish to participate should bring heavy 4-ply wool in two colours, popsicle sticks, and bands cut from discarded pantyhose. An admission fee of one dollar will be charged for this show.

Twelfth night opens at Citadel

Twelfth Night, the last of Shakespeare's happy plays, often extolled as his jewel of comedies about love, opens in the Shoctor Theatre, Wednesday, February 1 to February 26th, excluding Mondays.

The Citadel's production coincides with the anniversary of its first presentation when, less than four centuries earlier, on February 2, 1602, Shakespeare's Company, and presumably Shakespeare himself, acted Twelfth Night in Middle Temple Hall in London, England. Shakespeare conceived this play for a time of pleasure, that happy time of Christmas. Twelfth Night's special mood and flavour sets it apart from his other comedies, with many characters involved in delightful high-jinx ... mistaken identities and misplaced loves, and it is a crystallization of the best in Shakespeare's previous comedies.

Directing a distinguished cast of characters is Robert T. Armstrong who began his career in theatre in his native Dublin, Ireland, in a production of George Bernard Shaw's St. Joan at the famous Gate Theatre in that city. He subsequently worked in Britain and Ireland as an actor and director and is internationally known as an expert on voice production and speech. Mr. Armstrong is currently responsible for the acting and voice program at the University of Regina, Saskatchewan. He will be remembered by Citadel audiences as the director of Samuel Beckett's Endgame at the old Citadel.

The Twelfth Night set and costume designs have been created by resident designer, Phillip Silver. It reflects the modes of the early Empire period.

The play is set in Illyria, where an amusing cast of characters become involved in love's beauty, and its folly. Twelfth Night stars Leslie Yeo as Sir Toby Belch; Citadel Theatre Director John Neville as Malvolio; Brent Carver as Feste; Susan Wright as Olivia; Patrick Christopher as Orsino; Lynne Griffin as Viola; Brian Taylor as Sir Andrew Aguecheek, Sir Toby's protege; and Nori McLellan as Maria. Among this group of distinguished actors, also appearing in Twelfth Night, are Derek McGrath as Sebastian; Michael Ray Cunningham as a sea-captain and priest; Hamish Boyd as Valentine; Wendell Smith as Antonio; Myles Warren as Curio; Greg Morley as Fabian, and Patricia Goodwin as a lady-in-waiting.

Tickets for Twelfth Night are already heavily booked and Citadel management suggests contacting the Theatre at 425-1820 for early reservations.

Studio Theatre to produce work of U of A playwright

Songs for Believers opens at Studio Theatre on February 9. This is an event of major significance since the play was written by Gordon Pengilly, the first MFA graduate from the playwriting program in the Department of Drama at the University of Alberta.

The play is a poetic human drama. Director Frank Bueckert says: "Warm in both its happy and sad moments, it reaches a depth of human communication and understanding which is refreshing in today's predominantly sophisticated and sardonic theatre." On the surface it finds a Southern Alberta Mormon village's home being heart torn by the wayward behavior of a son; underneath the surface it finds all concerned being forced to face hidden inner torments that tear at the soul. In an age when the family is again being studied for its potential in strengthening our weakening social fabric, the play examines the real forces that bind members together, forces that are not necessarily neatly packaged in a religion-centered family home.

Says James H. McTeague, artistic director of Studio Theatre, "I am quite edified that a student of the Department has produced a work that is of professional quality. It is a pleasure that Songs for Believers is part of the Stage 78 season." The cast includes the graduating students in the professional acting program, in their final performance before entering professional theatre. To complement the students, three distinguished Edmonton actors will join them for this production - Walter Kaasa, John G. Rivet and Lee Royce.

Performances nightly at 8:30 from Thursday, February 9 to Sunday, February 19 (excluding Sunday, February 12 and Friday, February 17). There will be a Saturday matinee on February 11 at 2:30. Tickets are $2.50 each and are available from Room 3-146, Fine Arts Centre, 112 St. and 89 Ave., phone 432-2495 or at the door. All performances are at Corbett Hall on the University Campus.

Britten opera to be performed Feb. 10 - 11

Benjamin Britten's opera A Midsummer Night's Dream will be presented by the University of Alberta's department of music Friday and Saturday, February 10 and 11.

The fully staged production will begin at 8 p.m. each night in newly renovated Convocation Hall in the Arts Building on campus.

The opera, adapted from the Shakespeare comedy by Britten and Peter Pears, is in three acts and is the department's first major production in its renovated concert facility.

The cast is made up of students in the voice/opera division of the department and will be supported by the St. Cecilia Orchestra with musical director and conductor Alfred Strombergs.

Alan Ord is production and stage director and Terry Gunvordahl is production designer.

Tickets for A Midsummer Night's Dream are $3.50 for non-students and $2.50 for students and are available at The Bay, the music office in room 3-82 of the Fine Arts Building on campus (telephone 432-3263) and at the door.

"Vanities" rehearsing at Theatre 3

Jack Heifner's latest Broadway comedy, Vanities, is in rehearsal at Theatre 3, for a January 27 opening at Persephone Theatre in Saskatoon. Cast and director leave this weekend to travel to Saskatoon, where they will put the finishing touches on the joint production.

Mark Schoenberg, outgoing artistic director of Theatre 3, directs this study of three women as they pass through three phases of their lives, from high school cheerleaders, to college sorority sisters, to women approaching that turning point: age 30.

The cast includes a trio of Edmonton actresses. Janet Daverne is presently on leave from the University of Alberta where she teaches speech and improvisational theatre. Janet has appeared at theatres in Saskatoon, Eugene (Oregon), Minneapolis and at the Manitoba Theatre Centre. Judith Mabey is familiar from her many appearances at Theatre 3; most recently in La Ronde, and previously in The Photographic Moment, a Doll's House, and Kennedy's Children. Returning from Toronto to Edmonton where she had studied drama at the U of A is Elan Ross Gibson. Elan's most recent Edmonton engagement was at the Stage West Theatre Restaurant as Terry in How the Other Half Loves.

Following its Saskatoon commitment, Vanities will return to Edmonton for its scheduled two and a half week run at Theatre 3. Performances are February 16 to March 4, Tuesdays through Sundays at 8, with a Sunday matinee at 2:00.

General Manager Stephen Gentles states that "This co-production by Theatre 3 with Persephone Theatre represents a continuing commitment to co-operate with other professional theatres for mutual benefits." Previous collaborations have included the Theatre 3-Theatre Passe Muraille production of Far as the Eye Can See and the ongoing Theatre 3/Northern Light Playwrights workshop series.

Tickets for Jack Heifner's Vanities are available in Edmonton from The Bay Box Office and from Theatre 3 at 10426 - 95 Street.

School Days In St. Albert

Accent on Akins

By Allison Prouse

Just a short note to let you know that Lorne Akins is still alive and ticking. Everyone seems to have gotten over any minor disasters suffered on Friday the 13th. No black cats stalked the halls and the ladders were kept safely hidden in the janitor's closet. In fact probably the worst things which occurred that day were just normal happenings, including the usual sort of reprimands. For any of us who were superstitious, however, Im' sure the trusty ring of garlic would have kept away any evil intenders.

Good luck also seemed present for the ski club members, who have made it out three times to Lake Eden. The weatherman has not turned his back on us yet, as we have been accompanied by perfect weather each time. So far no one has broken any legs, although a certain beginner skier did manage to unintentionally fly over two unexpected jumps. For anyone who hasn't been out yet, I can assure you that the rope tow still eats mitts and the T-bar still sneaks up behind unsuspecting people and gives them the "o.k. karate chop". Except for those few follies we are all doing fairly well. Who knows, maybe the hundred plus of us will make the Olympic ski team!

Also braving the cold are two outdoor education classes. Each group of courageous people will be freezing outside for a total of three days, (unless disasterous weather conditions keep them there until spring).

The grade sevens, led by Mr. Scott, Mr. Weir and Mr. Terry Beite (a student at the University of Alberta) will be bused up Makewin Lodge. The grade nines, going to Carson Lake, will have to walk (just kidding). The grade sevens will be participating in icefishing and safety (and of course, how not to squirm when stabbing a poor worm or hitting a fish over the head). They will also go horseback riding and learn how to take care of the horses. Cross country skiing and snowshoeing will be taken to get the blood circulating, and nature interpretation and winter survival skills will be learned in case the bus decides to break down. .

The grade nines will be accompanied by Mrs. Sunderland, Miss Sumka and Mr. Ferguson. The grade nines (between prying frozen bodies out of the snow) will be doing outdoor cooking, ice fishing and pre-building and safety. So that we will be able to have fires, we will also be learning how to properly use axes and knives. Flora and fauna will be taken by those who can see through a tightly wound scarf. Photography will also be taken up along with snowshoeing and skiing so that we will have some trusty transportation home. For anyone who is interested in this course you might also like to know that we will be sipeeing in tents.

Besides the sleeping part these camps should be fun for those involved. The school will also benefit. They will have two classes worth of permanently frozen ice statues.

Also busy, but not in the snow, are the Yearbook Club members. This year's project is going to resemble a directory and should prove to be a bit out of the ordinary. To raise money for the yearbook, raffle tickets for the record of your choice are being sold. No real problems have risen in this organized group except for occasionally misnaming people and pasting others upside down.

The basketball teams are also working full force ahead. A prestigious basketball player is easily recognized in our school. All seem to wear an unforgetable "red sweat stained face," which speaks of the "agonies" they go through to represent our school. Who knows maybe the Olympic ski team will be joined by the Harlem Nationals!

(For someone who had nothing to say, I did pretty well, didn't I?!).

St. Albert High reports

Test Week runs from Wednesday, January 25 through Tuesday, January 31. For a few students these days are their last as they are completing their programs and heading into the future. Good luck!

On February 1 the second semester gets underway. Students and teachers are looking forward to seeing new faces - a freshness welcomed by all.

Eighty-six students and eight staff members are escaping winter drudgery by going skiing in Jasper on the weekend of February 4. Congratulations to Mr. Chugg and Kelly Polanski for making the arrangements.

St. Albert Lions Winter Carnival '78 is coming. New events promoting high school involvement are generating some interest. This year's carnival features a queen contest, cross country ski races, ice sculpture competitions, and a burger eating contest. Pass the bromo please!

Graduation '78 is underway. Committees and chairmen are listed below:

1. Co-ordinating - Tony Morris; 2. Budgeting - Mr. Maurice Marko; 3. Banquet and Dance - Ken Martindale; 4. Liturgical - Mrs, Joanne Reinbold; 5. Printing - Mr. Hank Reinbold; 6. Theme - Brenda Kowalyshyn; 7. Selection - Elaine Dowell; 8. Pictures and Rings - Colleen Wilson.

New books at the library

By Louise Frier

Life Goes to the Movies, by the editors of Time-Life Books. For all motion picture lovers this book has it all - the stars, the build-up, the movies, the studio and the behind-the-scenes. It goes back to the early years of Hollywood right up to the 70's. Over 300 pages of pictures and stories. You will spend hours with this book, viewing again the scenes from the motion pictures you have seen and loved. The stars - they're all here. Read about their personal stories - their successes and their heartbreaks.

Life Goes to War, by the editors of Time-Life Books. This is a book about the story of the Second World War. It began in 1936 on the blood-stained barricades of Madrid and Barcelona and the wind-swept plains above Peking, and it ended, nine years later, on the deck of a battleship in Tokyo Bay. Life Goes to War is a picture history of World War 11.

La Nostalgie n'est plus ce qu'elle etait, by Simone Signoret. This is the famous French actress, Simone Signoret's autobiography. For those who read French as well as love this motion picture star, this will be great reading.

Gardening in Containers, by the editors of Sunset Books. This book gives basic "how-to" information for gardening in containers for indoor and outdoor plants. A book to read now and be ready for spring. It has colorful illustrations on every page and covers a large range of plants from flowers, trees, fruits, vegetables and herbs.

The Art of Glen Loates, by Paul Duval. Glen Loates is considered by many to be the foremost Nature artist living today. For millions of Americans and Europeans, Loates' name is synonymous with the unspoiled realm of wildlife. This book represents the range of his paintings: mammals large and small; birds; fish; plants and insects.

JUVENILE READING

Doctor Knock-Knock's Official Knock-Knock Dictionary, by Joseph Rosenbloom. Everyone likes a knock-knock - who's there?, joke and this is just the book to keep you knocking. For example: Knock-knock. Who's there? Manuel. Manuel who? Manuel is sorry if you don't open this door.

Lumberjack - paintings and story by William Kurelek. This is a factual account of life in the bush at a lumber camp. William Kurelek, the famous Canadian writer and artist grew up in Alberta and Manitoba. He spent two periods of his life as a lumberjack. First was to earn money so he could go to the University of Manitoba, the second was to earn money so he could study painting in Europe. This book is good reading for all ages.

Crusade in Jeans, by Thea Beckman. A novel for young readers. The author has structured this remarkable book as a kind of science fiction in reverse. A time machine catapults a 20th-century teen-ager to the 13th century. A book full of heroism and adventure.

Teen Scene

By Brian Leonard
Community Youth Worker

Did you know that in 1966 there was a special department set up by the provincial government to work with youth? At that time the recreation department, 4H, junior forest wardens; Alberta Service Corporation, misc. youth programs and special leadership programs, all came under the heading - Department of Youth. The department grew until, in the early '70s, they were working with a budget of over $2 million per year and a staff of about 60 which included information officers, research people, grant administration, leadership program staff and special project administration.

About that time the department was given a new name under the new government and became known as Culture, Youth and Recreation with most of the same programs as before.

In 1975 the cultural programs came under the department of culture; recreation became - Recreation, Parks and Wildlife and what about Youth you ask? I think some politician must have decided that not enough youth had a vote in provincial elections because the programs were either dispersed or dropped completely. The former department of youth now consists of a two-man office somewhere in the Recreation, Parks and Wildlife Building.

What can be done about it? It's up to You.

TEEN HAPPENINGS

Discotheque this Friday night at the Grandin Clubhouse from 7:30 - midnight. It sounds like the place may be packed so get there early.

East Side Teens are off to terrorize the slopes in Jasper, January 30, 31 and February 1. If things are a little quiet in St. Albert those days, you know why.

Lacombe Teens have another new meeting place, that being Ronald Harvey School at 8:15 on Wednesdays. Joan will be in touch with you about the change.

A Film Club has emerged from the hallways of V.J. Maloney. They will be showing first rate flicks starting sometime in February. These movies will be Saturday afternoon and evening in Maloney gym.

Some economic growth seen for 1978 Canadian economy

The Canadian economy should show some modest signs of improvement during 1978, according to Rowland C. Frazee, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association (CBA).

He suggests in a year-end forecast that the country's real gross national product– the sum of all goods and services – should rise 3.5 to four per cent during the year. That compares with an estimated growth of between two and 2.5 per cent for 1977.

Frazee, president of The Royal Bank of Canada, said contributing factors in the improvement would include a slowing in the rate of inflation and heavier demand for Canadian goods at home and abroad.

"While domestic demand may not show great strength in any single sector, growth will likely be stable and broadly based and recent increases in real disposable income should be reflected in increased consumer spending."

But Frazee said unemployment will continue at a high level and remain one of the serious problems of the year.

"Employment growth occurring during the year likely will be steady but not sufficient to absorb the large numbers of unemployed, together with projected growth in the labor force

Rowland C. Frazee

"As a result, the unemployment rate may continue to average about eight per cent, showing little or no change from 1977."

Packing for a vacation??

From Alberta Agriculture
District Home Economists
Pat Doerksen and Laura-Marie Kirchner
M.D. Building, Morinville
Ph. 939-4351.

Packing for a holiday whether it is to Montreal, Hawaii or Calgary can be a bothersome task. Often we pack too much, not enough or the wrong things!

FABRICS

Knit fabrics should be your first choice for comfort and easy care. Jerseys, warp knits and doubleknits pack easily because they don't wrinkle or crease and maintain their good appearance during wear.

Woven fabric will wrinkle and will probably require at least touch-up ironing. A travel iron may be a wise and practical pre-trip purchase.

Consider what CARE is required - what facilities for laundering will you have?

GARMENTS

Plan your wardrobe around the activities you will be involved in. One outfit will suffice for the "maybe" activities.

Plan for all temperatures and weather conditions. Unfortunately, most holidays seem to have a few rainy days, so a coat - preferably water resistant or a warm sweater are essential.

CO-ORDINATES

If a jacket can be worn with a skirt, pants, shorts or a dress in addition to its matching garments - take it! Then co-ordinate other pieces to wear with more of the garments. With a limited number of garments you can appear to have a varied and extensive wardrobe.

But, beware! If you will be in contact with the same people for several days, you may quickly tire of wearing the same few clothes mix and matched. It would be a pleasant change to see a different colour occasionally.

ACCESSORIES

Don't forget accessories - jewellery, scarves, etc. They don't take up space and can brighten up even a "tired" wardrobe at the end of a vacation. Shoes take up space so try to select one colour to go with most outfits, plus comfortable walking shoes and a pair of slippers or beach sandals.

PLANNING & PACKING

It's wise to lay out all the items you think you need along with all the accessories to accompany each outfit. This way you won't forget important items; it enables you to count the number of ensembles you have and you can see how much you have to pack.

Before each item is packed, give it a critical eye. Is it really necessary? Is it clean and in good repair? Where would it be more useful to you - in your suitcase, overnight case or purse?

First, pack odd shaped items such as shoes, camera, make-up case, curlers, razor, hair spray, clock. Fill in the spaces with lingerie and crush-proof clothing. Place the heavy items at the side opposite the handle.

Next, layer garments, beginning with the least used or least crushable. Fold each garment smoothly with a few folds as possible. Include tissue paper in the folds of garments which wrinkle.

By layering the clothes, the top layer can be removed down to the articles you want, without disturbing anything.

WORD OF ADVICE

Spread all the things out that you plan to take. Pack half the clothes and twice the money and you should come out about right!

Have a happy, carefree, relaxing vacation.

Christian women's brunch February 16

A relaxing and informative morning for women will take place Thursday, February 16 when the Christian Women's Club holds its brunch at the St. Albert Inn from 9:30 - 11:30 p.m.
11:30 a.m.

The featured speaker will be Lori Quinn from Merle Norman Cosmetics. Ms. Quinn will demonstrate "Put on a Happy Face," illustrating proper and effective skin care.

Soprano Linda Milke will provide the music while the Inspirational Speaker will be Olga Beggen, a Winnipeg homemaker.

Reservations are essential for those wishing to attend the brunch and those who find they cannot make it are asked to cancel. To do either, please contact Diana Unrau at 458-9672 or Lorraine Carter at 459-7313. A nursery service at the St. Albert Inn will be available at a cost of $1.50 per mother. The entire event costs $4 per person.

A prayer coffee will be held at 30 LaFonde Crescent on Thursday, February 9 from 9:30 - 11:30.

Gibbons cookbook offers new twist on old standbyes

Nothing is more gratifying to the dedicated cook than the act of nonchalantly setting down a new and tantalizing dish on the family table. The newest collection of recipes around is from the Ladies Auxiliary of the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 226 at Gibbons. "From Our Kitchen to Yours" offers plenty of old standards, originals and traditionals with a new twist.

In the category of pickles and relishes, those new to the art will discover some basic pickling recipes, while

BREAD WITH AN ACCENT

To the French, no meal is complete without bread. It is a staple they have become accustomed to and for which they are world famous. The elongated, stick like shape that is the bread's most familiar characteristic is a convenience to the French. The long length, usually between 18 and 36 inches, makes it easy to cut or break the loaf in pieces for the table. The French enjoy a loaf with much crust – but it must not be thick! The long, thin shape lends to this crustiness. Cutting diagonally across or along its length helps prevent excessive crumbs and allows for a maximum area for the spread.

In French urban cafes the bafurette and the flute are the most popular types of French stick and are usually accompanied by red wine.

In the country where rye is still important, the "pain de siegle valaisim" from the alpine regions is said to be the most Ancient of French breads.

Brioche (breeyosh) is perhaps the most versatile kind of French bread. These loaves are usually baked in loaf or fluted tins in the traditional or ball shape with a round "head". They may also be formed in a ring shape. Large brioches are often hollowed out and used as a container for sweet and savoury foods.

[illegible] sugar is used in the baking of French bread, [illegible] Heiden, nutrition consultant for the Bakery Council of Canada suggests eating the loaf while still fresh. Include it in a BEEF R[illegible] SANDWICH for lunch or go DUG-OUT STYLE when entertaining friends. Day old French bread can be toasted or made into FREEZER FRENCH TOAST. French toast, although originally from France was [illegible] being introduced there by the Normans [illegible]

Beef Round-up Sandwich (Serves 4-6)

1½ pound ground beef
1 10 ounce can tomato soup
½ teaspoon oregano
1 tablespoon steak sauce
1 teaspoon salt
6 slices Canadian cheese
1 loaf French bread
¼ pound sliced mushrooms

Split loaf of French bread widthwise and toast lightly and set aside. Reserving 2 tablespoons of soup, mix first 5 ingredients thoroughly. Top bread generously with meat mixture spreading right to the edges. Brush remaining soup on meat mixture. Broil or bake at 450 F until meat is cooked through. Top with cheese slices and sauteed mushrooms. Serve garnished with pickles and olives. The kind of soup can be varied

Dug-Out Style French Bread

4 cups diced chicken or tuna
4 cups pineapple chunks drained
3 cups green peppers finely chopped
4 hard-cooked eggs diced
1 to 2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1½ cups chopped celery
dash of salt, pepper and pimiento
1 loaf French bread

Combine the first 7 ingredients mixing well. Season with salt, pepper and pimiento to taste. Chill if desired. Cut loaf in half lengthwise. Cut out loaf so half an inch remains all the way around, then fill with mixture. Garnish with tomatoes, pickles and olives. May be made in advance if chilled.

Freezer French Toast (Serves 8-10)

4 eggs
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
8 to 10 slices day-old [illegible] (¾-inch thick)
confectioners' sugar
¼ teaspoon freshly ground [illegible]
melted butter or margarine

Beat together eggs, milk, sugar, vanilla and nutmeg. Place bread in jelly roll pan. Pour egg mixture over bread, let stand a few minutes. Turn slices over and let stand until all of egg mixture is absorbed. Place in freezer, uncovered, until firm.

Turn slices over and let stand until all of egg mixture is absorbed. Place in freezer, uncovered, until firm.

To serve, place frozen slices on greased rimmed baking sheet. Brush each with melted butter or margarine. Bake at 500°F for approximately 8 minutes, turn slices over, brush again and bake for 5 minutes longer or until lightly browned. Serve with confectioners' sugar, honey or maple syrup.

more experienced chefs will have fun trying some less common ideas such as Carrot Relish or Zucchini Pickles.

Under the heading of salads, soups and vegetables I was delighted to see an interesting treatment of Chinese Cabbage, sauteed with bean sprouts and other Chinese vegetables. Chinese Cabbage is deliciously crisp looking at the market, and many cooks who have been uncertain about its use will have the chance to serve this delicious vegetable in an innovative way. It would go down well accompanied by sweet and sour spareribs or Chinese beef with tomatoes.

Many of the recipes are ideal for working women, as they contain ingredients which can be stocked on cupboard shelves. Corned beef loaf is one of these, an imaginative approach to the use of canned meat. The Turkey Divan also falls in this category, and allows the cook to conjure up a gourmet dish with little effort. There is an international flavour to the book with recipes which can brighten up a winter dinner table. Mexican Meat Cakes, Luau Sausage Supper, Chinese Meat Balls and Ukrainian Holubtsi or Cabbage Rolls with all appeal to palates which have been dulled by the steak 'n spuds syndrome. However, it was in the breads, cakes, cookies and cakes that the book really excells. The varying origins and lifestyles of its authors are reflected in confections that vary from the sophisticated to delicious down-home goodies recalled from childhood. Traditionalists will be pleased at the inclusion of Old Kentucky Bread Pudding and an old-fashioned Suet Pudding. More innovative ideas are used in Spanish Cinnamon Cake, Banana Oatmeal Cookies, Spiced Sesame Bars, Carrot Pie and Gum Drop Cake. A recipe for Peanut Butter Cookies uses an interesting modification, and something called Snow Sticks is a delicious confection of cream cheese and honey and fruit mounted on sticks.

In addition to its recipes, the book contains poetic and amusing tidbits as well as informative tables and charts. The first aid pages courtesy of St. John Ambulance are another handy item.

V.G.K.

Dim lighting can be as soothing to chickens as it is to clients of big-city bars.

Fred Proudfoot, head of the poultry section at Agriculture Canada's Kentville, N.S., Research Station, has found that dim lighting makes broiler chickens more subdued and less inclined to fight among themselves.

The low lighting is beneficial because the broilers perform better and require a lower-protein finishing diet.

CONTEMPORARY LUXURY

Plan No: P4-3-138

An attractive contemporary family home of interesting design for practical and luxury living. The exterior features cedar siding, used both horizontally and vertically, topped with a heavy textured shake roof. Enclosure of the double carport to a double garage is relatively inexpensive if completed in the initial building stage.

From the twin-door entry there are two steps to the guest coat-closet and the foyer area is open, forming part of the living room.

This illustration shows an optional conversation pit centered on a free-standing fireplace. A feeling of spaciousness is created by the high vaulted ceiling and the upper hallway, which opens into the living room.

The open dining area also has the spacious vaulted ceiling and room for a complete family-size dining suite.

With space for all the latest appliances, the large U-shape kitchen is not only convenient for service to the dining room, but a few steps to the family nook. An open balcony allows a view of the family-room, where mother can keep control of the young children, while busy in the kitchen. Sliding glass doors to the back porch and stairs, and a short flight of stairs to the family-room, all exit from the nook area.

An open stairway leads from the living room to the bedroom wing, with an open hallway to the study and bedrooms. Overhead clearstory windows give the ultimate in daylight to this inner hall.

If used as a bedroom, the study entrance would be enclosed, but as shown here takes full advantage of the sloping ceiling, which creates a spacious den. Sliding glass doors to the large sundeck further increase the feeling of spaciousness.

A three piece shower ensuite and a full walk-in closet make a luxurious master bedroom. The option of a door prior to the large linen closet would create a very secluded suite.

Guests, as well as the additional two bedrooms, are serviced by the three piece, vanity bathroom. Here there is an interesting design in the "step-up" bath.

In the basement there is plenty of room for a utility with a washer and dryer, roughed-in plumbing for a bathroom, room for a fourth bedroom and workshop. The big advantage is that future construction can be undertaken as the budget allows.

Plans for design No: P4-3-138 may be obtained for a cost of $78 for a set of three and $9 for each additional set. Allow $2 to cover postage and handling.

To view more than 100 well designed quality homes of every type, send for the current publication of Home Plans, Western Edition, available for $2.25 ($2 plus 25¢ postage and handling). New blancher designed Scientists at Agriculture Canada's Kentville, N.S., Research Station have designed and built a new blancher that uses steam rather than boiling water to commercially blanch vegetables.

The new system retains more vitamins in vegetables, saves energy and reduces the amount of effluent discharged into the sewer system.

The design of the blancher is free to any manufacturer wanting it as a model for a full-scale food processing plant.

The Bahá'í Faith Unifies Mankind

For the last 130 years, the Bahá'í Faith has been single-mindedly striving to establish unity throughout the world. Convinced that disunity lies at the root of all human problems, Bahá'ís from every background, race, nation and religion have seen a new vision of the world as one country and mankind its citizens.

Through the teachings of Bahá'u'lláh, Prophet-Founder of the Bahá'í Faith they are building a world community based on the dynamic principle of unity in diversity. There's a part in it for you.

THE SIX LAWS OF LEADERSHIP
By Robert Hastings

1. Leaders are made for people, and not people for leaders.

It is because some people are the scum of the earth, as well as the salt of the earth, that leaders are needed. People are not made to satisfy the ego of leaders.

2. Leaders must win people to themselves, before winning them to their programs. This means people must like you before they live your program. Leaders must win the confidence of their followers. They cannot automatically expect loyalty. Loyalty is earned, not demanded. There is nothing wrong with trying to be an agreeable fellow whom people like.

3. A leader must learn to multiply himself through others. Here is an eight word formula for success: "Surround yourself with people smarter than yourself." Yet some of us are afraid to do that. We are afraid to share responsibility, knowing that would lead to sharing the glory. All of us have enough martyr complex that we enjoy a little pity. "He's working himself to death." That has a certain sweetness which we like. So instead of putting 10 people to work, we try to do the work of 10. What glory! A better word would be, "What folly."

4. People may see problems but leaders must see opportunities. There are "HOW" people, and there are "IF" people. The "if" people wring their hands. They worry and fret. The "how" people have ideas. They come up with solutions.

5. Leaders must see further than people, but the telescope must not replace the microscope. With a telescope, the leader sees far off events, and distant potentials. But with the microscope, he scrutinizes and solves problems at hand. Not only must he see "over there." He must also know how to get from here to there.

6. Leaders must try to win followers, but they cannot always wait for the majority. In 1939, the Gallup Poll asked the American people how many would buy a new gadget called T.V. Only 16 percent said yes. In the next 30 years 175 million sets were sold.

Leaders come from people that learned to be good followers.

Christ was the great leader and perhaps the verse in John 10:4 sums it up. "When He putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice."

One billion people lack clean water

Water, pure and within easy reach. How often do we pause to consider that one billion people in rural areas of the developing world have no ready access to clean water?

In vast regions of Africa, Latin America, Asia and the Middle East, women and children devote several hours of each day to the arduous and time-consuming task of walking miles to and from the nearest source of water, weighted with back-breaking containers.

The irony is that this very water is often the source not of life or cleanliness, but of debilitating and frequently fatal diseases. An alarming array of gastro-intestinal ailments is transmitted by polluted water. Diarrhoea, dysentery and typhoid are major contributors to high infant and child mortality.

BOLIVIA AIDED

For as far back as anyone could remember in the remote Bolivian village of El Espino, the routine was the same. During the six-month dry season, the single hand-dug well would dry up and the 350-odd villagers had to haul their water in clay jugs or oil cans from a tiny spring eight kilometres away

It was a daily five-hour round trip, which meant that classes at the village school were held in the afternoons for tired minds in tired little bodies. It also meant that the remainder of normal housekeeping chores occupied women well into the evening. But above all, the same water which regulated this routine was far from pure. In fact it was largely responsible for a 90% incidence of intestinal parasites --- Bolivia's number two child-killer.

This daily routine has now changed with the arrival of UNICEF-supplied drilling rig and piping. Since 1975, UNICEF Canada and CIDA have jointly contributed towards a million-dollar project to accelerate the work of rural sanitation in Bolivia. Community involvement, coupled with national initiative, is responsible for the success of this Canadian-funded project. The Health Ministry provides the advice and technical expertise, UNICEF supplies the pumps, pipes and cement, and the villagers contribute the labour for well-digging and help to install the pipes and pumps.

CARDS CAN HELP

By helping to provide safe, clean water through their contributions to UNICEF, Canadians have shown in a very deep sense their care and concern for the well-being of these children and their families.

Intensive cereal production

Scientists at Agriculture Canada's charlottetown, P.E.I., Research Station have been researching the feasibility of more intensive cereal production on the island.

Tests have shown that spring wheat yields can be increased to four tonnes per hectare by doubling the application of nitrogen fertilizer. The average yield for wheat on the island is now about two-and-one-half tonnes per hectare.

However, the researchers have encountered problems with diseases such as septoria and mildew and fungicides may be needed as part of the intensive management practice. Research is continuing to determine whether the higher cereal yields will pay for the extra input costs of intensive production.

December ceremony unites couple

One week prior to the Christmas festivities, December 17, 1977, marriage vows were pledged and wedding rings exchanged between Michelle Louise, daughter of Adrien and Cecile Gosselin of St. Paul and Cl de Richard, son of Armand and Ferne Carignan of St. Albert.

The bride entered the church with her father and mother on each arm. The bride's dress, sewn by herself, was made of polyester crepe and flowered lace which adorned the upper part of the empire waistline pattern, with long fitted lace sleeves. The long detachable scalloped train of flowered lace gently followed the bride to the altar. A headpiece of pearls and a three tiered veil was worn by Michelle, borrowed from her sister-in-law, who was married just a few months earlier. The bride carried a bouquet of red and white silk roses and flowing ribbons. Lynn Helten was matron of honor, Darlene Mitchell and Sue Lewis the bridesmaids, all were attired in dark green velvet dresses of the similar pattern as the bride's. The girls carried white muffs with small arrangements of tiny roses which matched those in their hair. Lisa Randall, niece of the groom, was the flower girl and also wore the identical attire as the bridesmaids.

The groom, looking debonair in his black tuxedo to complement the bride, was also escorted by his mother and father arm-in-arm. His best man, Peter Helten and his groomsmen Richard Carignan and Gary Bondarevich wore pale green tuxedo jackets with black pants and vests. Michel Gosselin, nephew of the bride, wore a brown suit jacket accented with houndstooth pants and vest with light green shirt.

The ushers were Randy Gagnier, friend of the groom and Nelson Saindon, cousin of the groom. Michelle and Claude were united in marriage in the St. Albert Roman Catholic Church by Father Joly. During the ceremony Marcel Doucet, accompanied by Bertha Kennedy, sang songs selected by the bride and groom which added a touch of sunshine and promise.

Gary Bondarevich, read the scripture readings and intentions chosen by the bride and groom. For the special occasion the bride's mother wore a soft crepe gown of orange and yellow flowers. The groom's mother wore a burgandy velvet gown and both mothers wore corsages of silk roses, carnations and ribbons.

The Fortune Village was decorated for the reception which followed. The three tiered wedding cake of white and red roses was crowned with a cake top of bells, silver cross of the rings of marriage smothered in white and red roses.

The headtable and all guest tables were given a touch of the closeness of Christmas with candle centrepieces of poinsettias and pine.

Dix Randall of Whitecourt, brother-in-law of the groom, mastered the festivities. A smorg was enjoyed by all with toasts of baby champagne. The Mad Hatter supplied the music and it varied from the theme of Star Wars to waltzes and polkas enjoyed by young and old.

Out of town guests were the bride's parents, from St. Paul, Alberta, the groom's grandparents from Ponteix, Saskatchewan and friends from Whitecourt.

Michelle and Claude are now living in Edmonton. They have deterred their honeymoon at the present, due to the closeness of Christmas but are looking forward to a trip later in the year.

Saints increase lead with pair of wins

St. Albert Junior Saints increased their lead a-top the seven-team Alberta Junior "A" Hockey League to three points as they won two of three games they played last week.

Saints split a pair with third place Edmonton Crusaders, winning 4-3 Wednesday in St. Albert and then losing 10-6 Thursday in a return match at Jasper Place Arena.

Saturday at home the Saints handed the last place Taber Golden Suns their 31st loss of the season with a 6-4 win.

St. Albert has now played 42 games, four more than the Canucks and three less than the Crusaders. Fort Saskatchewan Traders are beginning to move in the standings and now have 46 points in 40 games.

In weekend AJHL play, Traders took a pair of games in Pincher Creek with 5-4 and 6-2 wins. Calgary beat Crusaders 5-4 in overtime and Red Deer Rustlers handed the Taber Golden Suns a 8-3 whipping.

Saints next home game will be tonight when the red hot Fort Saskatchewan Traders will be here for an 8 p.m. game.

Wednesday night in St. Albert Ken Solheim scored the winning goal to lead the Saints to a 4-3 win over the Crusaders.

Darrell Morrow, Mickey Volcan and Bruce Jacobson scored the other St. Albert goals while Rick Fournier had a pair for Edmonton.

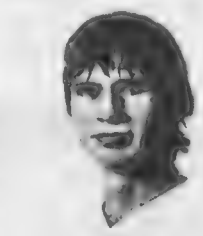
Crusaders outshot the Saints 33-32 and took 7 of 17 minor penalties handed out.

Thursday night in Jasper Place Arena the Crusaders scored four third period goals to break open a 6-6 tie and go on to win 10-6.

Saints led 3-2 after the first 20 minutes of play but were down 6-4 going into the final period of play.

Two early third period goals by Mark Messier put the Saints on even terms and it appeared they would go on to win but six straight penalties including a five-minute match to Bruce Jacobson gave the Crusaders a new lease on life. They responded with four goals in five minutes and won going away.

The 10 goals were the most allowed by the Saints this season. Their previous high was a 8-6 loss to Red Deer December 16.



KEN SOLHEIM

Mickey McCarthy led the Crusaders with four goals while linemate Todd McAuley had three, all in the last period.

Jay McFarlane and Messier led the Saints with two goals each while Bruce Jacobson and Ken Solheim added singles.

Saturday night in St. Albert the Saints jumped into an early 3-0 lead only five minutes in the opening period with Ken Solheim, Darrell Morrow and Mickey Volcan beating Murray Morton in the Taber goal.

Taber came back with a pair of goals by Rudy Kleiner and Steve Tsijura midway through the period but, Solheim's second of the period put Saints ahead 4-2 going into the dressing room.

Terry Lowe and Randy Ruff scored early in the second period to tie the game at four each but Jeff Elkow's 16th goal of the season put St. Albert ahead to stay midway through the period. It was also the winning goal as Ken Bales who replaced Pierre Lamoureux at 9.57 of the second shut the door on the Golden Suns the rest of the way.

Solheim added his third of the night early in the third on a blistering slapshot from just outside the blueline that caught the corner on a startled Morton in the Taber goal.

Referee Walter Little had the game in control at all times. He was called upon to hand out only 12 minors and a misconduct to Terry Lowe of Taber late in the game.

Taber Golden Suns netminder Murray Morton was a little late on this shot as Junior Saints Ken Solheim has just blasted a shot from the blue line past him for the final goal in the Saints 6-4 win Saturday night. The goal was also Solheim's third of the night.

Comets place ten on All-Star squad

Some of the finest hockey talent in Alberta will be on the ice Saturday, January 28 for the annual Alberta Major Intermediate Hockey League All-Star game.

The game will be played at 2:30 p.m. in Sherwood Park Arena and will feature some of the top players from each of the seven member league teams.

The All-stars will be divided into two teams with St. Albert Comets, league leaders selecting players from Stony Plain Eagles, Fort Saskatchewan Huskies and Camrose Maroons in division one.

Division two team will have players from Sherwood Park Barons, Enoch Tomahawks and Drayton Valley Rebels.

Bob McGill, coach of Division Two and also the Barons coach did not have his complete roster set at press time but the bulk of his team will be from the Barons and Enoch Tomahawks. Drayton Valley Rebels will have four members on the squad.

Kerry Ketter, coach of the Comets, will pilot the Division 1 stars and has 10 players from his team on the squad - Rich Perrault, Bob Beaulieu, Paul St. Cyr, Blaine Georgy, Murray McLaren, Matt Lister, Larry Stewart, Barry Medori, Carey Winquist and Dale Henwood.

Dwayne Klassen, Gary Mann and Denis Mouillierat will be the Stony Plain representatives. Svend Green, Jim Grant, Joe Millar and Bill Andreasson will come from Camrose and the Huskies will send Dave Shardlow, Dale Hutchison, Randy Kjenner and Rene Deslauriers.

Claude Contant from the Comets will manage the team.

Perrault, Beaulieu and St. Cyr, all defensemen were members of the winning team last year with Ketter as coach in the game played in Westlock.

The forward line of Lister, Stewart and Medori is the highest scoring line in the league and all are rookies at 21 years of age. Lister has 23 goals and 26 assists, Stewart has 22 goals and 23 assists while Medori has 12 goals and 21 assists for a grand total of 127 scoring points in 26 league games.

The goaltending team of Winquist and Henwood are the lowest scored upon netminders in the league with Winquist having won all 12 games he has played in. Henwood has been the winning goalie in nine games playing the three losses the Comets have to date.

The most valuable player of each divisional club will receive a trophy and a dinner for two, compliments of Paul Wong, owner of the Crossbow Inn.

A banquet and dance will follow the game, commencing at 7 p.m. at the Eastgate Mall banquet room. Tickets can be purchased from members of any league team.

Admission for the game will be the same as any regular scheduled AMIHL game, $2 for adults, $1.50 students, 50¢ for children and free admission to children under 12 if accompanied by a parent.

Bantam house teams capture tournament

Two St. Albert House League bantam teams travelled south to Ponoka on the weekend where they took part in a Bantam 'D' tournament.

The Grandin Agencies Comets won the championship final and the St. Albert Community Hall Hawks took the consolation event.

Comets won over the Ponoka Lions 3-1 in a rough penalty-filled game that saw St. Albert take six of 18 penalties called.

The Hawks lost in their opening match-up against Camrose by a 6-3 score. A win would have put them up against the Comets, their close rivals in St. Albert league action. As it worked out the Hawks went on to defeat Ponoka Lions 2-1 in a close but rough game reminiscent of the Comets encounter with the same team. Chris Keim notched the winner on a breakaway with only 1:39 left to play.

The win over Ponoka set the stage for the Hawks 5-3 victory over Innisfail in the consolation final. Both teams were evenly matched and it wasn't until Garth Desrosier's second goal of the game with three minutes left that the Hawks earned the victory.

Good pressure by the Hawks kept Innisfail from pulling their goalie and provided them with one more marker to ice the cake.

Mike Tessier managed 28 shots on goal for the Hawks including five on the net right off the face-off.

The Comets won three games in a row Saturday enroute to the championship.

After defeating Ponoka in their first contest they took on the Camrose Hustlers (earlier winners over the Hawks). It was a fast game which saw the St. Albert team constantly pressure the Camrose goalie whose strong game kept the scoring from becoming much greater than the 5-2 final.

In the championship game St. Albert faced off against the Spruceview Comets. The St. Albert Comets came out blazing, scoring twice in the first three minutes. They ran the score to 4-0 before the Spruceview team got it together and popped in two by the end of the second.

Comets came out skating in the third and scored to make it 5-2 at the midway point. Hard work kept the Spruceview team in check until the 18 minute mark when they rounded out the scoring at 5-3.

Top point-getters for the Comets were Marc Fortin (9), Brian Warren (5), Ronnie Dutton (4).

Other players on the team include: Aime Salsi, Terry Rush, Bobby Campbell, David Burgess, Grant Shuler, Gene Reval, Paul McLaughlin, Garth Boyle, Mike Cherkas and Gerry Gleason.

Warm weather has made playing hockey outdoors a great way to spend a sunny afternoon. This game was in full swing at the Braeside rink when photographer Al Popil dropped by to catch some of the action.

Highlights this season in the AMIHL

The AMIHL season is winding down to the final month of regular play now, but the season has held some highlights for hockey fans.

Mickey Girard (D.V.) holds the record for individual scoring in a single game with 10 points, followed by Andy Crenshaw (Cam.), Dan Haley (Edm.), Art Assman (D.V.) and Gary Bredin (D.V.), all with seven points.

The season saw some goals being scored in rapid succession, the fastest of these being two goals nine seconds apart scored by the Stony Plain Eagles. The nine second span record was followed by the St. Albert Comets, with goals 11 seconds apart, the Enoch Tomahawks with goals 12 seconds apart and the Wetaskiwin Colonels, with goals 15 seconds apart. The Edmonton Bruins had the distinction of scoring three goals in 59 seconds, while the Sherwood Park Barons scored six in eight minutes, 31 seconds. The Edmonton Bruins repeated their success when they scored seven goals in 13 minutes, and 10 seconds.

Oilers meet Racers tonight

Edmonton Oilers will meet the Indianapolis Racers tonight at 8 p.m. in the Coliseum and should Edmonton win it would move them into sole possession of fourth place in the crowded World Hockey League standings.

Oilers are currently tied in fourth spot with the Houston Aeros at 43 points each, altogether the Aeros have a game in hand.

Oilers have just returned from a three game road trip and they were only able to salvage two points with a 3-2 win Saturday night over the Racers. Ron Chipperfield with his 19th and 20th goals of the season led the Oilers attack while Bill "Cowboy" Flett scored the other (10) Oiler goal.

Don "Smokey" McLeod kicked out 34 Racer shots and made some excellent saves late in the game when the Racers appeared to get stronger.

The stick Dave Dryden is using (Joe Micheletti) may not be the proper one but it did the job just the same for a short period of time. Dryden and the Edmonton Oilers shut out the league leading New England Whalers by a 1-0 score with Blair MacDonald scoring the winner in the first period. Photo by Al Popil

RON CHIPPERFIELD

Edmonton lost Friday night to the Birmingham Bulls by a 5-3 score and Sunday in Cincinatti the Stingers scored four second period goals enroute to a 5-2 win.

DON [SMOKY] McLEOD

Norm Ferguson with his 14th and Pierre Guite (10th) were the Oiler marksmen.

The third place Quebec Nordiques will be here for back-to-back games this weekend as they play Friday and Sunday night.

A sweep of both games by the Oilers would move Edmonton into third spot which would please coach Glen Sather as he feels the club should be playing better than it has in the last couple of weeks.

The club wishes to advise parents and skaters of the Senior CFSA Program that effective immediately all scramble ice will cost 50¢ per session. Skaters will be billed periodically by mail. Only 24 skaters will be allowed on the ice during each session.

There are extra patches for sale on Monday A.M., Monday P.M., Tuesday A.M Thursday A.M., and Thursday P.M. If any skaters are interested, please phone our CFSA Supervisor, Marj. Joyal.

Our CFSA Test Chairman, Jacquie Malinowski is pleased to announce that the club will be holding a test session for figures, free skating and dance for club members only. Thursday, January 26 from 3:00 - 10:00.

The club will be hosting a silver and gold dance session on Friday, February 3 from 4:00 - 7:00. Unfortunately, in order to accommodate the Friday test session, the junior and senior national practice session will be cancelled for this day only.

This practice session will be made up to these skaters on either February 9 or 10. Watch the bulletin board at the arena for the definite time and day.

Parents who registered their children to begin figure skating after Christmas should watch for an announcement in the Gazette, when we have a confirmed date.

For Spoon Collectors, we now have coffee spoons available with our club crest on them.

Mrs. Pesklewis, ways and means chairman has them for sale at the arena on Wednesday evenings from 5:15 - 6:00 along with our club jackets, T-shirts, charms and pins.

K of C's holding free throw competition

Budding basketball stars will have an opportunity to show off their skills Sunday in a Free Throw competition.

The competition, sponsored by the St. Albert Knights of Columbus, goes Sunday in the Sir George Simpson gymnasium. Eleven to 14 year old boys and girls will go to the free throw line between the hours of 1:00 and 2:30 p.m. and the 13 - 14 year boys and girls will follow at 2:30 to 4 p.m.

The competition is free and all competitors will receive certificates. Winners will receive trophies and earn the right to represent St. Albert in district final competition. Categories are determined by age and sex.

District winners will advance to a regional playoff and if successful at this level they could move on to a provincial free throw competition.

One restriction is in effect for the competition Sunday. Only participants in the Knights of Columbus minibasketball program will be allowed to compete in the 11 and 12 year old category.

More information on the Free Throw competition may be obtained by contacting Al Alain at 459-8656. The Knights would like to wish all competitors the best of luck.

Horn paces Calahoo girls hockey

Marnie Horn's second goal of the game with 12 seconds left to play gave the Calahoo girls hockey team a 2-1 win over Linaria Sunday night in Calahoo.

Linaria took a 1-0 second period lead but Calahoo fought back early in the third to tie it and eventually won it on Horn's goal.

The game featured end-to-end action and the girls also found time to let off a little steam. Calahoo captain, Phyllis Rothweiler, got in a scrap with a Linaria player in the first period.

Phyllis was clearly the winner and this no doubt enspired her team-mates on to victory.

Shauna Fowler had a strong game in goal for Calahoo and all the girls put out 100 percent. They are much stronger since their first few games of the year.

Bring on Riviere Qui Barre.

JR. SAINTS
HOCKEY ACTION

St. Albert Saints will have their hands full tonight when the red hot Fort Saskatchewan Traders will be here for an 8 p.m. game.

Traders are only three points behind third place Edmonton Crusaders and have five games in hand on the Edmonton team. Traders also have two games in hand on St. Albert but are eight points behind and will have to continue on their winning ways if they hope to catch the Saints.

Traders won all three games last week with 5-4 and 6-2 wins over Pincher Creek Chinooks as well as a 6-2 win over Red Deer.

Saints and Traders have hooked up in six games to date with the Traders holding a slight edge winning three, losing two and one ended in a 5-5 tie.

All games have been won by one goal with the exception of a 8-6 win by St. Albert in their last meeting December 11.

Pincher Creek will be here Saturday night and the Saints will then have a week off before meeting Taber Golden Suns here Saturday, February 4. The following day Red Deer will be the visitors.

Maroons upset Comets in AMIHL play

St. Albert Comets split their two league games last week. They won 2-1 over the Barons in Sherwood Park Tuesday and then lost 6-5 in overtime to the Camrose Maroons Sunday night in St. Albert.

The loss to Camrose was only the third defeat in 26 starts for the Comets. They hold a 13 point lead over the Barons in Alberta Major Intermediate Hockey League action.

Comets are almost assured of finishing in first place with only 10 games left. Three of those are against Edmonton Bruins (2) and Wetaskiwin Colonels. Because these teams have dropped out of the league, Comets will automatically pick up the six points.

St. Albert actually have only seven games to play with a pair each against Fort Saskatchewan Huskies and Stony Plain Eagles and single encounters with Camrose, Enoch and Sherwood Park.

Tuesday night at Sherwood Park, Carey Winquist had a fantastic game in goal for the Comets as he stopped 38 shots in the Comets 2-1 win.

BARRY MEDORI

Ex-pro, Ed Dyck, who was picked up from the defunct Wetaskiwin Colonels was also hot allowing only two of 39 Comet shots to get by.

Larry Stewart opened the scoring at 6.05 of the first period to give St. Albert a 1-0 lead but John Kleinschroth tied it up with a powerplay goal at 16.41 with John Phelan sitting out a charging infraction.

CAREY WINQUIST

Bob Beaulieu scored the final goal of the game late in the second period to give St. Albert the win and their eighth straight since losing 6-4 to the Barons December 13th.

Sunday night in St. Albert the Comets led 4-0 at the end of the first period on goals by Barry Medori, Larry Stewart, Dave Vinge and Brian Soznowski but by the end of the second the Maroons had fought back with four goals of their own to tie it going into the final 20 minutes of play.

Ex-Alberta Golden Bear star Jim Ofrim led the way with a pair while Joe Millar and Andy Crenshaw added the others.

Comet's leading scorer Matt Lister scored his 23rd of the season early in the third to give St. Albert a 5-4 lead but it was short-lived as Crenshaw tied it up midway through the period.

Both teams had some good scoring chances in the final 10 minutes but could not get it by Henwood in the Comet net or Craig Gunther in the Maroon goal.

It didn't take long to decide the winner in overtime as Frank Clarke scored on a screen shot from the point with only 39 seconds gone to give Camrose a well deserved come-from-behind win.

Comets will get a chance to avenge the loss in Camrose Thursday night. They will not be at home until Friday, February 3 when Fort Saskatchewan Huskies will be the opposition.

A new addition to the Comets line-up Sunday was Brian Soznowski who will wear sweater #15. Soznowski played for the Golden Bears last season and should give Comets some additional muscle and scoring power.

In the Barons game Tuesday in the Park, a slapshot from Comet's defenseman Rick Perrault was deflected and struck teammate Don Moores in the forehead breaking the sinus bone. He will be lost for a few games.

Last Sundays wrestling card at the sales pavilion drew 1200 fans for the afternoon event. The main attraction being the return of the midgets along with the former World Heavyweight Champion, Gene Kiniski, in town to relieve Leo Burke of his recently won North American title, was unsuccessful in the one hour time limit match when disqualified for unethical tactics.

Speedway will operate in 1978

Each season is a possible "last ever" for Speedway, but, each spring comes the announcement of a full program of racing for the coming year. 1978 is no exception as negotiations have recently been completed insuring a full season of racing at the facility.

In 1977 Graham Light took over the job of general manager producing a record attendance year. For the first time, Speedway showed a profit for two consecutive years. 1978 marks the first time in the past six years that the job of directing Speedway has been held by a returning general manager.

With the return of oval racing, due to the closing of Westwind Oval, Edmonton International Speedway once again becomes the most complete auto racing complex in North America.

The Oval was reopened when the Moto-cross track was cleared recently. Moto-cross proved not to be a profitable venture and did not operate at all last year. Oval racing will be run at Speedway under the guidance of the group who formerly operated at Westwind headed by Rob Byrne.

As in previous years, the major events to be promoted at Speedway in '78 will be drag racing events. For the coming season the schedule is as follows: May 14; May 25 and 26; June 22; July 31 and September 9 and 10. Along with the preceding major events will be 15 Tuesday night street races and stock car racing every second Wednesday night.

Sabres spilt against Fort, lose to Leduc

Fort Saskatchewan caught the Territorial Leasing Sabres sleeping with a goal to start things off in the arena Friday. The earlier goal brought the Sabres to life and they fought back with three of their own before the period ended to lead 3-1 going into the second.

Seven goals, most of which found the mark in the final five mintues, highlighted action in the second. Sabres scored five times to take a commanding lead into the final 20 minutes of play.

Fort Saskatchewan threatened to make a game of it when they opened the third with two goals but solid Sabre checking and a steady performance by Chris Donnelly in goal held the Fort's big guns off the scoresheet. Late in the game Sabres rounded out the scoring making the final tally 9-5 for the home club.

Rick Gray led Sabre scorers with four goals and three assists. Other scorers were: P. Kelly - two goals, three assists; D. O'Neill - one goal, two assists; B. Hammett and B. Weller - one goal, one assist; B. Malanchen - two assists; T. Shipanoff and D. White - one assist.

Back in the Fort the next day the Sabres fell early victims when they allowed four goals in the first before replying with one of their own in the final minute. It was a powerplay effort by P. Kelly assisted by O'Neill and Gray.

In the second Fort Saskatchewan went up 6-1 before the Sabres rallied with three goals in the closing minutes to make it close. In the last seconds of the period Sabres lost a goal on an offside whistle.

Four goals in the third were split evenly and the Sabres left the Fort on the short end of an 8-6 score. Sabres outshot their opponents 38-30 in the game but felt they faired poorly with the referees. Poulin scored twice to lead the Sabre scoring.

At home to Leduc on Sunday, the Sabres came out flying and jumped into an early 4-0 lead before Leduc narrowed the gap with two goals near the end of the first period.

Leduc turned the tables in the second by outhustling the the second by outhustling and outscoring the St. Albert club 3-0.

Three more goals by Leduc in the third to just two for the Sabres resulted in the St. Albert team losing its second straight 8-6 verdict.

Gray picked up four points on two goals and two assists. O'Neill also scored twice and picked up an assist. Swist and Owen scored one goal apiece. Assists went to Kelly (3), McKeage, Holliday, Shipanoff and Weller (1 each).

The Sabres now hit the road for four games. They play in Sherwood Park Thursday, Fort Saskatchewan Sunday, Ardrossan on Monday and Red Deer, Tuesday.

Happenings on the St. Albert sports scene in 1977

Gazette sports flashback

For the past three weeks the Gazette has featured a sports flashback for the year 1977, attempting to present major happenings on the local sport scene in capsule form. This week we present the last of four parts.

SEPTEMBER

Matt Lister of the St. Albert Juniors won the Rookie of the Year award in the 14-team Sturgeon Valley Men's Fastball League. Lister played a number of positions on the team and was also in the running for the most valuable player as well.

The Sturgeon and District Hockey Association of Morinville ended its short-lived working agreement with the St. Albert Junior Saints hockey group and will not allow the Standard Generals Junior "B" team to play out of their rink this season. Apparently not enough local boys would make the team.

Helmut's Masonary bantam soccer team won their fifth championship in a row with a 1-0 win over Duggan. Paul Kelly scored the only goal to give coach Herman Kochan yet another league title.

St. Albert Comets opened their training camp in the Alberta Major Intermediate Hockey League and a number of last year's Alberta "B" championship teams were back.

The St. Albert Arena opened on the 22nd and marked the earliest it had been opened since it was built a number of years ago.

St. Albert Junior Saints hockey team lost 9-6 to the Edmonton Crusaders in an exhibition game. Both teams are members of the Alberta Junior "B" hockey league and both are expected to be in the thick of things at playoff time.

Alberta's midget all-star soccer team placed second in the Western Canada Selects soccer tournament in Calgary with their only loss coming to British Columbia in the opening game. Steve Aldred, Keith Heyburn, Chris Odinga along with Coach Herman Kochan were the St. Albert members of the team.

The St. Albert peewee soccer team coached by Manuel Viveiros won the Edmonton city championship with a 4-1 win over favored Royal Glenora in the final. Steve Johanson led the way with two goals while Dave Clark and Manuel Viveiros added the others.

St. Albert Junior Saints tasted regular season action in the Alberta Junior "A" hockey league and came up with four of six points on their first road trip of the year. Saints won their season opener with a 5-4 win over Taber Golden Suns and then followed up with a 5-2 win over Pincher Creek Chinooks. Their only loss came to the defending champion Calgary Canucks by a 3-2 score in overtime.

Grandin Bakery peewee soccer team won the Alberta Provincial soccer championship with a 6-5 overtime win over Calgary. Desi O'Kell scored the winner on a goal kick to decide the outcome.

Bullets captured the St. Albert bantam soccer championship with a 2-1 win over the Cannons. Mitch Poulin and Murray Brown scored for the winners while Willie Conte scored the lone Cannon goal.

OCTOBER

Fort Sask. Traders handed the Junior Saints a 4-3 loss in their home opener in St. Albert before almost 600 fans.

St. Albert Junior Saints lost their home opener in the Alberta Junior "A" hockey league as they were shaded 4-3 by Fort Sask. Traders. A crowd of 750 saw some excellent action and if the opening game was any indication it would appear that junior "A" hockey was being accepted in St. Albert.

Edmonton Oilers also opened their WHA season with a 5-3 loss to the Winnipeg Jets as Bobby Hull did most of the damage with a hat trick.

Herman Kochan, coach of many of the championship winning minor soccer teams in St. Albert retired and he will be greatly missed.

Three goals by veteran Rich Perrault paced the St. Albert Comets to a 9-4 win over Enoch Tomahawks in the season opener of the Alberta Major Intermediate Hockey League.

Comets bit off a little more than they could chew when they played the U of A Golden Bears in an exhibition game and were soundly thumped by a 6-1 score. Bears were in a little better condition than the Comets and it showed up in the third period.

Three-goal performances by Barry Brown and Girard Jubenville paced St. Albert Junior Saints to a 10-7 win over the visiting Taber Golden Suns. The win moved the Saints into a first place tie in the seven-team Alberta Junior "A" hockey league.

St. Albert Sportshop Barons opened defense of their Alberta Midget "A" provincial championship with a 8-4 win over Red Deer Optimist Chiefs in the season opener of the Central Alberta Midget League.

St. Albert K of C bantam football team ended the regular season of the Edmonton and District bantam football league in a three way tie for third place. They did however win the Palmer division losing only one game.

NOVEMBER

Saints scored an impressive 8-5 win over league leading Calgary Canucks before a hometown crowd of over 500 fans.

St. Albert Comets won their fifth straight game in the AMIHL with a 5-2 win over Stony Plain Eagles. Larry Stewart led the way with a pair of goals.

Nu-West Canadians peewee "A" hockey team opened the regular season play with wins over Red Deer by a 3-1 score and over Sherwood Park Loadstars by a 5-2 count.

Territorial Leasing Sabres also opened their bantam "A" season with a 7-4 win over Drayton Valley Oilers.

Matt Lister, rookie forward with the Comets scored four goals in the Comets 11-1 win over Drayton Valley Rebels. It was the Comets ninth straight win.

St. Albert K of C bantam football team took it on the chin with a 36 to 8 loss to the Sherwood Park Rams.

St. Albert Raiders midgets won their season opener with a 6-3 win over Fort Sask. Brad Hancock led the Raiders with a pair of goals.

The Canadian Flag Football championship was won by the Edmonton Pirates in Halifax in the first ever national championship. Five St. Albert players were members of the team, Ian Langridge, Dave Grice, Don Porter, Keane Aldous and Doug MacKenzie.

The 11-team Sturgeon Valley Senior Hockey League opened with action on all fronts. Calahoo Scorpions handed Riviere Qui Barre a 8-1 loss, Legal surprised defending champion Gibbons by a 7-6 score, to highlight the action.

Anita Hunter's foursome won the St. Albert Ladies cash bonspiel with a win over another St. Albert team skipped by Dot Lait.

DECEMBER

Danny Towpich scored three goals to pace the Comets to a 7-3 win over the Fort and it was also the 12th win in a row for the Comets who are undefeated in Alberta Major Intermediate Hockey League action.

St. Albert Sportshop Barons defeated Spruce Grove by a whopping 24-1 score and advanced to a playoff with Leduc with the winner going to the Wrigley's in Red Deer at the end of the month.

St. Albert boxers won five championship bouts in the Alberta Amateur Bronze boxing card in Sherwood Park. Martin Tueber (105 lb.) Peter Richmond (110), Darrell Symbaluk (80), Grant Arnasson (85) and Neil Kathol in the 125 lb. class all were winners in championship bouts.

St. Albert Saints moved into top spot in the Alberta Junior "A" Hockey League with wins over Edmonton

Mercier on Fitness

GOING SMOKELESS

Richard P. Mercier
Recreation Program Supervisor

Today, Wednesday, January 25, 1978 has been declared "SMOKELESS WEDNESDAY" by the Alberta Lung Association.

The purpose of the declaration is obvious; to assist nicotine addicts (sounds crude, but if you crave cigarettes, your addicted), in kicking the habit in order to stop the devastating health effects of smoking.

This non-smoking day is being held in conjunction with the National Education Week on Smoking January 22 - 28.

Do you smoke? Do you consider yourself basically healthy? There is no such being as a "basically healthy smoker." Even if lung cancer, bronchitis or emphysema have not caught up to you yet, you are partially disabled as soon as you smoke your first pack.

Even if you feel great, there is hidden damage there and that should bother you!!

The American Medical Association says just 10 puffs of a cigarette increases resistance in the air pathways to the lungs. This choked up condition persists for one hour after each smoke.

Carbon monoxide in cigarette smoke is a potent poison that rapidly enters the blood, combines with the hemoglobin in the red blood corpuscles and renders many of them incapable of carrying oxygen.

The lung capacity of habitual smokers gradually shrinks, the cilia or tiny hairlike structures acting as brooms to sweep out the windpipe and bronchial tubes become paralyzed by smoke. Without this natural defence, the lungs are vulnerable to airborne intruders, dust particles and other pollutants.

Basically what smoking does is exactly the opposite of what exercise does; that is it decreases the amount of oxygen entering the lungs, (as well as adding unnecessary pollutants).

But you already know all that, it's quitting that's hard. Well it's like fitness, it's up to you.

Find the easiest way, it may help, at least you will be trying and today it is easy to realize that the pleasures of smoking are far outweighed by the detrimental aspects.

One day in January without smoking is not intended to be a miracle answer to the smoking issue, but a concentrated effort to inform and assist all puffers to slow down or give it up. (You will gain much more than you gave up).

TO YOUR HEALTH!!

Raiders squeeze by Drayton in playoffs

The St. Albert Integrated Builders kept their Alberta Winter Games "torch lit" over the weekend, eliminating the hustling Drayton Valley Midgets 14-13 in a two-game shoot out.

Centre Dave Lacroix was the hero Monday night at the St. Albert Arena, firing the winner with only 12 seconds remaining after Jim Sawchuk put him in the clear with a perfect pass.

The Raiders travelled to the Valley on Sunday, and a hard fought 5-4 win proved to be the margin of victory in a series that could have gone either way.

The see-saw 9-9 tie at St. Albert Monday was one of those games that gives coaches grey hair. Defensively, the Raiders had a night they would like to forget. Shane Antoniuk led the scoring with a four point night including two goals, while Rob Tooth added a pair.

The Raiders trailed 4-2 after the opening 20 minutes on goals by Tooth and Kurt Bokenfohr. The second stanza belonged to St. Albert and they went into the third with an 8-7 lead on Antoniuk's pair, and singles by Brad Ernest, Tooth, Keith Heyburn, and Daryl Turnbull.

Drayton Valley, were not ready to quit yet. Goals at 8:48 and 14:08 put them one up in the game, and tied in the series. Overtime looked inevitable. Lacroix's goal to tie the game and win the series was a dandy. It was a fitting way to advance in the playoffs.

The Sunday game in Drayton Valley caught the Raiders with a shortage of manpower, and it took an all-out effort for the locals to come home one up. Goals by Tooth and Colin Parayko gave St. Albert a 2-1 first period lead.

Bokenfohr and Lacroix picked up goals in the middle frame, with Hook adding his second of the game for the home crew. Bokenfohr stretched the Raider lead to 5-2 early in the third, but two quick ones by D.V. midway through the period narrowed the lead to one. However, the determination by 11 tired Raiders paid off, as they hung on for the series lead.

St. Albert now faces Wetaskiwin in the Zone 5 final for the right to represent this area at the Medicine Hat Winter Games March 2 - 5. The opening date for this battle was not available at press time.

Two important Hwy. 14 league games happen this weekend. Sherwood Park visits St. Albert on Friday at 7:30, and the Raiders travel to Vegreville on Saturday.

Raider Rebounds - Vegreville blasted Sherwood Park 8-1 Saturday night in what should have been a close one ... Hancock and Galbraith were picked first and third stars at Drayton Valley; Antoniuk and Tooth received same at home ... Turnbull and Fraser were "forced back" on the blueline at D.V., and did a commendable job ... If you threw all the top S.A. series performers in a hat and came out with Tooth, Bokenfohr, and Lacroix, you wouldn't be too far wrong ... Coaches Pennington and Swist didn't exactly look like (or sound like) winners after last game ... Smile Ross and Ron, your boys have only tasted the "bitter fruits of defeat" three times in around 27 games ... Not bad for a club that didn't even exist a few months ago.

Canadians squeak by Loudstars

Powerplay strategy backfired for St. Albert's NuWest Canadians peewee rep club and almost cost them their first place position, in a tense match at Sherwood Park Sunday. Three times the shorthanded Loadstars broke out against their attackers, scoring a key goal the first time, but were stopped by St. Albert goalie Paul Burgess on the others.

Canadians' Tim Sebastian put the visitors ahead early in the first period by slapping in a pass from behind the Loadstars' goal. Emmanuel Viveiros and John Lenz assisted. However, Sherwood Park responded with a goal from on a good pass to an open player in front of the net. With five minutes remaining, Fortune connected on his shorthanded goal, his second mark of the game, to put Loadstars ahead at the end of the period.

Although the second period went scorless, there was heavy action around the St. Albert goal as a rash of penalties kept the Canadians hopping on defense. Paul Burgess came up with several sharp saves but, unfortunately, received an injury near the end of the period which kept him out for the balance of the game.

In the final frame, St. Albert pressed throughout the period, and both clubs produced several end-to-end rushes which had fans in hysteria. Pressure was relieved after three minutes, when Viveiros, from a sharp angle, picked the far corner with a pretty shot, unassisted, to tie it up. Chris Lane, now in the St. Albert net, was tested hard a couple of times, as play continued furiously. With three minutes remaining, Tony Baller fed Tony Rouault and the latter whipped in a stiff backhand shot for the eventual winner. Sherwood Park pulled goalie Moren in the final minute, but to no avail.

Crusaders (5-4) Taber (9-5) and Pincher Creek (7-3).

Comets dropped their first game of the season when the Sherwood Park Barons scored a 8-3 win to halt the Comets winning streak at 12 games.

St. Albert Sportshop Barons ran into a hot Westgate Chev. goaltender in their second game of the Wrigley's Midget Tournament in Red Deer and lost by a close 3-1 score. The loss was a heartbreaker for the team as they had put in many hours in preparation for the event. They did, however, win the consolation event and beat Lloydminster 8-1 in the final game.

THE CITY OF St. Albert

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Council for the City of St. Albert passed the following resolution at a Council meeting held January 20, 1978:

That the Council of the City of St. Albert apply to the Provincial Planning Board for an order to approve the transferring of the reserve designation from that land legally described as Lot R, Block 4, Plan 276 K.S. to parts of Lot 5, 6 and 7, Block 5, Plan 1037 K.S., and that a public hearing on the intention to dispose of Lot R, Block 4, Plan 276 K.S. transferring the public reserve dedication to parts of Lots 5 - 7 inclusive, Block 5, Plan 1037 K.S. be held at 7:45 p.m., Monday, February 20, 1978 in the Council Chambers in the City Hall Annex.

Any person who is the registered owner of land abutting or adjoining the reserve parcel or residents who claim to be affected by the proposed exchange of the reserve may submit written objections to the resolution to the undersigned prior to Friday, February 17, 1978. Persons wishing to make oral representation may do so by appearing at the public hearing.

Three Sturgeon men awarded Medal

Three Sturgeon men, one a teacher with 29 years experience, the others the mayor of Gibbons and the former Redwater Mayor Walter Malowany have been awarded the Queen's Silver Jubilee Medal for community service.

Mayor of Gibbons Reg Austin got his medal a week ago with the citation duly signed by the Governor General Jules Leger in Ottawa.

The medal is attached to a red white and blue ribbon and is about the size of a 50 cent piece with the Queen on one side and a special jubilee design on the other.

The award is for community service in the years of the Queen's reign from 1952-1977.

Mayor Austin has been mayor of Gibbons for about a year and a half and was on council a year previous to this when former mayor of Gibbons "Snip" Loblock resigned.

Mayor Austin has 10 years as a school bus operator on his service record, had been a trustee with the Sturgeon School Division for nine years, and has also been involved with work on natural gas co-ops.

Mayor Austin has also 17 years service as secretary-treasurer of the Alberta Rural Electrification Association, 14 years of this were spent on the Association's board of directors.

Former Redwater Mayor Walter Malowany was also a recipient of the medal. He is a longtime resident of Redwater and his community service record goes as far back as the mid-30s.

Mr. Malowany, who was also a trustee on the Thorhild school board, says "I was one of the original guys who broke away from Smoky Lake County and in 1951 went for town status (for Redwater)."

Up until three years ago Mr. Malowany spent most of his time as Redwater's deputy mayor, until he was elected mayor in 1974.

He has also got four years experience on the Redwater school board.

Mr. Malowany is active on the local business scene and runs a GM dealership garage business.

The other recipient of the medal is Thorhild teacher John Hawrelko, a resident of Redwater. He has 29 years teaching experience and is now teaching at Thorhild Academic School.

Mr. Hawrelko has been heavily involved in committee and delegation work at the local council and school board level. He has also worked closely with the Alberta Teacher's Association and the Alberta Department of Education in curriculum and policy decision making.

Red Barn keeps folks warm in winter

Even though the weather has cooled off markedly this past while, things are still a rootin' and a tootin' for the Red Barn Old Time Dance Society about eight and a quarter miles northeast of Bon Accord.

Walter Jerram, one of the owners of the Red Barn has got just the solution for these cold winter nights before the old time dance fans thaw out their shins on the rubber padded floating dance floor.

"When the people come in and see the fireplace going, in this cold weather, they go to the fireplace and get warmed up and it really has a good atmosphere," said Walter referring to a new fireplace he has had installed at the Red Barn.

Not only that the Red Barn has recently put out $25,000 for a back-up power unit in the event of a power failure during the winter.

"We generate the same amount of power as what Calgary Power supplies - a fantastic sized machine."

The renowned steak suppers are still going strong at the Barn from seven to nine, with the Saturday night dance a regular feature yet.

Walter said that 90,000 steaks have already been booked for next year.

The Red Barn's popularity has not diminished, neither has its size physically.

"We ordered 12,000 brochures and these are being sent out all over Canada because there is a big request for them."

The actual building has been extended 80 feet west and the dance floor has been extended 50 feet. "Our floor is just as big as a city lot."

Gibbons reservoir on stream

Mayor of Gibbons Reg Austin told the Gazette Monday the town was "just about starting breaking ground for the reservoir."

The reservoir has a capacity of 750,000 gallons and will cost about $700,000; its location is south of the present built-up area of the town.

Mayor Austin also told the Gazette that since December 1, 1977, Gibbons has issued 36 building permits for single family residences.

A Gazette photographer dropped in on the last meeting of the Namao Plus 60 Club and took this picture of the numerous members playing various card games. Unfortunatlely, he didn't have time for a hand, but an open invitation has been extended for him to come earlier next time for the exercise portion of the meeting. it's not known whether the invitation was extended because the seniors figured the photographer needed the exercise, or whether it would have made a better picture.

"Redwater Report"

The "Redwater Report" should be out, possibly in the second week of February.

The report is basically a quarterly (every three months) summary of what has been happening with town council and is available to the public once published.

In the report will be a summary of "what has transpired since the election" according to Redwater Mayor Alex Konasewich," and prospective developments that we the council foresee."

"We have started a rough draft and hopefully it will be ready in the second week of February."

Things are quiet this time of year in Redwater and developers "are probing into possible developments, but we do not expect any important developments till March," said the mayor.

It was a cold January wind blowing Wednesday and this-kitten was letting his feelings be known to the photographer. Actually the animal was near to being frozen when discovered near Calahoo while the photographer was capturing a few shots of snow laden trees.Rather than leave the kitten to face almost certain death he was taken home where he has now joined a jealous dog as part of the family.

CARRIERS REQUIRED IN STURGEON EAST

The St. Albert and Sturgeon Gazette is in the process of setting up carrier delivery in the towns of Bon Accord, Gibbons and Redwater. Therefore, we are compiling a list of children interested in delivering the Gazette in their particular town. Redwater all ready has carrier delivery, but we are interested in building a reserve list in that area for cases where the present carrier's family moves or when the carrier moves into a more mature business climate. Children selected for the new routes will be contacted in the near future, and the rest of the collected names will be kept in reserve.

Interested boys and girls must be between the ages of 10 and 13 and have already roughly two hours free Wednesday evenings. Kindly send the attached coupon to the Gazette; Box 263, St. Albert, Alberta, T8N 1N3:

Air Cadets on Parade

#524 Sturgeon Air Cadets

#524 Squadron held a very successful pot-luck supper last Friday evening in the Bon Accord Community Centre in honour of Mr. Bill Carleton, past president of the Civilian Committee, and Captain Snip Loblick retiring commanding officer of the squadron.

After taking the salute from the squadron, Captain Loblick relinquished the command and officially turned the squadron over to Captain J. McHardy, the new commanding officer. Guests, cadets, and families then moved downstairs for the supper. W.O. Fred Hutchings as emcee, introduced the guests. Seated at the head table were Colby McDonald, finance chairman of the Provincial Committee; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carleton, Captain and Mrs. Loblick, Captain McHardy, Officer Cadet Joyce Porsild, administration officer; Lt. N. Wriggatt, supply officer and Mr. Jack Yuill of the Provincial Committee.

After grace, given by Flt. Sgt. Carolyne Hutchings, guests helped themselves to a great variety of appetizing dishes. At the conclusion of the supper, Colby McDonald congratulated Cadet Fred Hutchings on achieving the rank of Warrant Officer and presented him with a certificate of award.

Mr. Jack Yuill, administration officer with the Provincial Committee, brought greetings to the cadets and their leaders on behalf of the Air Cadet League and reminisced about the early days of #524 squadron.

Mr. Art Skinner, co-ordinator of Camp Wright, had a word of thanks for Capt. Loblick and #524 Squadron, who in past years have helped in the construction of Camp Wright. He praised the co-operation of the parents on the civilian committee and in particular, Bill Carleton, who served for nearly 12 years as president of the civilian committee, and who was always willing to supply transportation and help when needed.

Mr. S. Russell, vice president of the civilian committee then presented Bill Carleton with a plaque and Mrs. Carleton with a brooch, in recognition of their many years of service and devotion to #524 Squadron. Bill thanked everyone on behalf of himself and his wife, and expressed the wish that the good work be kept up. He urged the cadets to "stay with it" as the training they received now would be a help to them throughout their life.

Mrs. Evelyn Hutchings, president of the Civilian Committee, told some humorous episodes of Capt. Loblick's involvement in air cadets before presenting him with a plaque in honour of his years of service in the cadet movement. Mrs. Loblick was presented with a brooch. As Capt. Loblick accepted the plaque, cadets and parents rose in a standing ovation.

Captain Snip Loblick was born in Spruce Grove and moved to Gibbons with his parents, when he was five. From 1950 - 1954 he worked with #524 Squadron as a civilian range instructor.

In 1955 he was instrumental in starting a squadron of army cadets in Clearwater, B.C., and from 1958 - 1960 worked with army cadets at Kamloops, B.C.

In 1961, he returned to Gibbons and to #524 squadron as adjutant-officer and training officer. In 1972, he became commanding officer and remained so until the fall of 1977. "Snip" as he is familiarly known, received his private pilot's licence in 1962, and since that time, a great many cadets have experienced the thrill of a flight in a small aircraft.

Captain Loblick thanked all those assembled at the supper for the plaque and spoke of his years in the cadet movement as most rewarding. He said that for many young people, the years spent as cadets were most significant and that many cadets had chosen related fields for their life's work.

Capt. Loblick expressed thanks to all the friends he has made through air cadets in the past 27 years and said it was a great situation to be able to go to any city in Canada and know someone in cadet work. He then thanked his wife Shirley for her tolerance, patience and understanding through the years, mentioning, too, that we would not lose him completely as he was remaining as range training officer.

Capt. Loblick received another standing ovation at the conclusion of his speech.

Guests and parents then watched a film to end the evening.

Many thanks to the mothers who provided so many delicious foods and to the cadets who did the dishes and cleaning up afterwards!

Upcoming Events: Jan. 27 - 29 Senior Cadets Wilderness Survival Camp; Feb. 5 - Annual Bean Supper at the Arena, 5 - 7 p.m.

Red Barn in winter

"It's nice dancing on a quarter section" one dancer put it last week.

The hay rack on which the bands play is not any smaller it's now 30 feet long instead of 20 feet and there's another two feet added to its width.

The barbecue pit can handle more people because of an extension, and Walter points out "We are doing our own steaks now and have our own butchers shop where we hang our own beef."

An office is being added to the Barn and washroom facilities have doubled in size.

Walter says that an air purifier has just been installed which makes it possible for the air to be changed every two minutes.

Cheap violin in storage

That "cheap" violin which Morinville Mayor Art Stapleton had to get because developers were really playing on his heartstrings has been in cold storage since the New Year.

It's now in a vault in the town office and hasn't been used since the New Year started; the developers must have been cheered up over the festive season.

But it'll be interesting to see how soon Mayor Stapleton's heartstrings get exercised in the coming months.

Thibault School Board highlights

At the regular meeting of January 3, 1978, the Thibault School Board approved that a statement of need be submitted to the Department of Education for a 16-room junior high school to be completed for September of 1978.

Representatives of Qualico Developments and Morinville Town Council met with the School Board at their regular meeting of January 17. A discussion took place regarding possible school sites in the new Qualico Development. The plan presented provides sites for three elementary schools and one junior high school in the new development. A possible site was also discussed for a future high school with vocational facilities. The School Board accepted in principle the possible locations of new schools as presented in the outline plan.

Two letters were received requesting refunds for fees paid for bus transportation. However, the requests were denied. The Board felt that refunds cannot be given because the size of the bus was determined by the initial response for transportation in October. If refunds are allowed during the year the cost of operating the bus would become an even greater burden to the Board than it is at present.

The Board is also awaiting replies from interested organizations regarding their participation in the formation of a Vandalism Committee to discuss ways and means of curbing vandalism in the Town of Morinville. To date the Board has received five responses out of the 17 letters that were sent out. They would appreciate a response from those organizations who have not replied as yet.

MR. AND MRS. LOYIE

William Loyies celebrate 40th anniversary

By Liz McLeod

Bill and Helen Loyie, former Calahoo residents now living in Edmonton, were honoured recently on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary.

The couple, arrived totally surprised at the St. Albert Community Hall November 25, to discover a large gathering of friends and relatives all set to enjoy an evening of dancing and fun.

A delicious meal started things off and the evening was topped with a midnight lunch.

Congenial MC for the night was Mr. Tony Arcand and Omar Poitras and his orchestra kept the dance floor filled with good old time music.

A two-tier wedding cake decorated with red roses graced the head table. Head table guests were Rosie (bridesmaid) and Frank Ternph, Mr. and Mrs. Loyie, Clara Loyer and Rupert Loyie. Clara, a sister-in-law, filled in at the head table for Susie, daughter of the Loyies.

Congratulatory messages from Premier Lougheed and M.P. Stan Schellenberger were read.

Both Bill and Helen were raised in Calahoo. Bill was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elzear Loyie and Helen was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antyne Mitchell. Helen's brother, Richard Mitchell and family live in Calahoo. Bill's brothers Edward, George and Henry Loyier all farmed in the Calahoo area.

Bill and Helen were the second couple wed in the first St. Catherine's Catholic Church. The wedding took place November 29, 1937. Allan and Rachel McLean were the first couple married in the church.

The Loyies have three sons - Walter, Henry and Rupert - and two daughters - Madeline and Susie - all of Edmonton.

Congratulations and best wishes for many more years of happiness together, Bill and Helen.

Legal oldtimer passes

On December 24, 1977, Mrs. Marie-Anne Lutz of Legal, Alberta passed away in Westlock Immaculata Hospital at the age of 87 years.

Born in Wisconsin, U.S.A. in 1890, she came west to the Morinville district with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Telesphore Labby at the age of nine years.

In 1909 she was married to John Lutz, they settled on a homestead seven miles east and one mile north of Legal and lived there until 1954 when they moved to the town of Legal. For the past eight years she has resided at the Chateau Sturgeon in Legal.

Predeceased by her husband in December 1955, she leaves to mourn her loss, one son Edward of Legal, six grandchildren and 17 great grandchildren, also one sister and one brother, Mrs. Tillie Leduc of Legal and Mr. Fred Labby of Lac La Biche.

Funeral services were held in Westlock with interment in the Westlock cemetery.

The pallbearers were Marcial Perreault, Arnold Longpre, Leo Lutz, Florent Lepine, Armand Houle and Hector Ringuette.

A.C.F.A. pageant approaching

The regional council of the French Canadian Association is now in its final two week period of hectic preparation for its annual gala evening. The social evening, which features a local competition for the title of "Mlle Cabane a Sucre," also includes a "boite-a-chansons," - cabaret type evening of fun and dance. The function is preceded by a reception and banquet, as well as by an information session which will attempt to bring as many people as possible in touch with the services and activities of the Regional Council within the Morinville, Legal and Vimy areas.

This year, this exciting event will be taking place at the Recreation Centre in Morinville on February 4 starting at 5:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend. Tickets are of two types and may be purchased from any council member, at Morinville's Red Rooster or at Legal's Caisse Populaire. For prompt delivery of your tickets, any interested person may also call the Socio-Cultural co-ordinator's office at 939-4397 during regular office hours. A limited number of tickets (approximately 250) are on sale at a very special price of $7.50 which includes the entire event with banquet while advanced tickets for the pageant and cabaret are also on sale. These are $4 for adults, $3 for students. Tickets for the pageant and cabaret will also be on sale at the door for $4.50 and $3.50 respectively.

Morinville Hockey News

By Margaret Yacyshen

Elite Carpet Peewee A played three games last week losing 8-3 against Delwood, winning 16-1 against St. Albert and winning 30-1 against Thorhild in a league game. The Morinville points (goals and assists) were scored by Dwight Van Brabant 24, Chris Bokenfohr 17, Marshall Lalonde 16, Robie Hoffman 12, Rick Mulligan 7, Phil Schayes 6, David Ihle 6, Tim Quinn 5, Neil Bokenforh 4, David Schriver 4, Jim Turner 4, Mark Carleton 3, and Keith Streeter 1. Next action for the Elite Carpet Blades will be against St. Albert Nu-West Canadians and in the minor hockey week tournament in Bon Accord.

Andy's Trucking Shaver A defeated Legal 7-2 in a game on January 21. The Morinville goals were scored by Murray Bokenfohr 4, Darryl Hesse, Bob Christie and Darcy Wood all one each.

The Frontiersman won all three of its league games last week. On Tuesday, January 17 the team defeated Calahoo 5-2 with two goals by Dexter Dersch, and singles from Norm Bohl, Jack MacAskill and Marcel Tourangeau. Morinville had five minor penalties while Calahoo had three, with each team receiving one major penalty.

On January 20 the Frontiersman won 12-2 over Alexander with Jack MacAskill getting five points, Guy Chalifoux 4, Marcel Tourangeau and Marinus Parlevliet 3 points each for the Morinville team. The Frontiersman had a total of five minor penalties and one major penalty; Alexander had six minor penalties and one major penalty.

Morinville defeated Namao 11-3 in a home game on Sunday, January 22. Jack MacAskill and Joe Kapitske each got a hat trick while singles were scored for the Frontiersman by Rick Pugliese, Roger Chalifoux, Carl Royan, Neil Macleod, and O'Neil Chevalier. Morinville had 13 minor penalties; Namao had 11 minor penalties, one major penalty, and one 10-minute misconduct.

Next games for the Frontiersman are scheduled for Friday, January 27 at Onoway; Sunday afternoon, January 29 at home to Bon Accord and Tuesday, January 31 at Riviere Qui Barre.

Morinville Library News

The library has received a valuable gift of some 30 books from Veterinarian Dr. V. G. Korompy. The Board are pleased and grateful for this gift. Theres a Time-Life series of animal books which includes "Elephants," "Monkeys and Apes," "Dangerous Sea Creatures" and one on "Cats" (not domestic). Also donated was a National Geographic series dealing mainly with the United States of America which enhances our reference department with titles such as "The Civil War," "Life in Rural America," "American Mountain People," "The American Cowboy" in life and legend, "Craftsmen In America." Also included were "Undersea Treasures," "Man's Conquest of Space", "Gypsies, Wanderers of the World" and "As We Live and Breathe."

Another Time-Life series on the Great Ages of Man includes such titles as "Renaissance," "Age of Exploration," "Age of Progress," "Imperial Rome," "Ancient Egypt," "Classical Greece," "Rise of Russia" and the "Cradle of Civilization." All of these books are superbly illustrated and indexed. Other books donated are "Michaelangelo," "World Prehistory" by Graham Clark of Cambridge and an Astronomy book and The Reader's Digest "Complete Do It Yourself Manual" of house care and maintenance. The latter is a very useful book well up to the high standard set by previous Reader's Digest manuals, so thank you Dr. Korompy for all these lovely books.

Seniors residence underway

Alberta Housing Corporation has awarded a $155,473 contract to Springer Construction Ltd., Edmonton, to build a six unit self-contained senior citizens residence in Morinville. W. J. Yurko, minister of Housing and Public Works, announced recently.

Other bids submitted were N. A. Porter Construction Ltd. $158,583., Nu-West Developments - $159,356., Keller Construction Ltd. $162,888., Altan Construction Ltd. $167,756., Senco Construction Ltd. $179,400., B. Poulin Construction Ltd., $186,663., Mario Concrete and Stonemasonry $199,000. Len-Mor Construction Ltd. $199,450.00.

The one storey residence was designed by A.H.C.'s own in-house architects. To be constructed on A.H.C. owned land, the units will be located adjacent to a historic church site, two blocks from Morinville's downtown core.

Construction will begin in January, 1978, with completion scheduled for next July.

A.H.C. is exclusively responsible for the project's capital costs. Application has been made to Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to provide a subsidy towards the residence's operating deficits.

Upon completion the project will be managed by the Morinville Lions Club.

"COME IN AND SEE OUR MONTHLY SPECIALS"

Morinville Memos

By Margaret Yacyshen

The Lions Club reports that the Community Calendars have been delayed at the printer's but should be delivered to Morinville residents very soon. This year the calendars will run from February 1, 1978 to January 31, 1979.

The Parish Council have now filled four recently vacated positions. Nominated and elected for a three year term were Yvonne Vranas, Frank Korvemaker and Louis Kryko. Appointed by Parish Council to fill the fourth position was Russell Steffes.

The Morinville and District Board of Trade has announced that the Meet Your Neighbour Night has been cancelled. This annual event has not proved to be a profitable venture.

The Frontiersman Restaurant will be open on Sundays from 8 a.m. - 10 p.m. commencing January 29, 1978.

BLOOD DONOR CLINIC TONIGHT

The Kinsmen Club will be sponsoring a blood donor clinic at the Recreation Centre from 7 - 9 p.m. this evening. Morinville residents are asked to support this worthwhile project. Also, the assistance of several extra ladies at this clinic would be greatly appreciated.

"Lady Beware" is a two hour program being sponsored by the local RCMP which includes a film and an informative talk regarding assault and rape. It will be held on Monday, January 30 beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Recreation Centre. All ladies are encouraged to attend. Fee is $1.50 for adults and 50¢ for students. Coffee and donuts will be served.

A Drama Club is being organized through Sturgeon Regional Recreation under the direction of Paul Johnson, a graduate in drama from the University of Alberta. Anyone interested in getting involved in activities in drama, such as acting, dancing, music, or stage work is asked to contact Paul Johnson at 939-4317.

MORINVILLE HISTORICAL AND CULTURAL CENTRE

There have been rapid developments on the Morinville Historical and Cultural Centre, formerly known as the Old Convent. Part of the 1909 original section is being restored as a historical site while the remainder of the section as well as the two outer wings are being developed for community use. The official meeting place of the following organizations has now become the Historical and Cultural Centre: the United Church for Services and Sunday School, United Church Ladies Aid, Historical and Cultural Society, Morinville Recreation Board, Alcoholics Anonymous, Ladies Paint for Pleasure Art Club, Morinville Lions Club, Inter-Club, Kiwanis Club, Kinsmen and Board of Trade. Tiny Tots and Tops club have also applied to be located there.

FOSTER PARENTS PRESENT FILM

The Sturgeon Foster Parents Association will sponsor the film Rock-A-Bye Baby at the Recreation Centre on Monday, February 13, commencing at 8 p.m. sharp. Guest speaker will be Dr. Jane Silvius of the Child Development Centre in Edmonton.

The film is terrific for any person interested in human development and parenting. It explores the importance of mothering as well as the consequences and problems arising when an infant is deprived. It also shows the benefits of a close relationship between mother and child.

Coffee and lunch will be served at 9:30, following the film and discussions. Everyone is welcome. There is no charge.

This is the first of a series on child development. Anyone wishing more information may call Joyce at 939-4405.

The Knights of Columbus will hold a pancake supper at the Recreation Centre on Shrove Tuesday, which is February 7. Prices vary from $1.25 - $2.00 for this pancake and sausage supper which will be served from 5 - 7 p.m. Everyone is welcome.

The second annual Cribbage tournament, sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, will be held on Friday, March 17. Tickets are $10 per team and are available from any K of C members. This competition is open to everyone.

The Zone 5 eliminations for volleyball will be held this weekend at both Georges P. Vanier and Notre Dame schools. Spectators are welcome. Teams from Morinville and surrounding areas will be competing with the winners advancing to the Winter Games in Medicine Hat.

On January 28 and 29 the Morinville Lions Figure Skating Club will host the Zone 5 eliminations for the Alberta Winter Games. Also, the club will be holding its winter carnival on Sunday, March 19; more details will be announced later.

RESULTS OF LADIES' BONSPIEL

The results of the Ladies Open Bonspiel held in Morinville this past weekend are as follows:

A Event: 1st, Anita Hunter; 2nd, Shirley Fisher; 3rd, Lynn Johnson; 4th Sally Oakes. The above rinks are all from St. Albert.

B Event - 1st, Alic McClay of Lancaster Park; 2nd Helen Rousseau of Morinville; 3rd, Charlotte Newton of Edmonton; 4th, Gale Blinston of Morinville.

In the raffle for the teddy bear and 50 dollars, the winning ticket was held by Cathy Durstling of Legal.

The president of the Ladies Curling Club, Jeannie Kachman would like to thank all the ladies who helped in any way with the bonspiel.

The Morinville Curling Club is hosting three open bonspiels: Farmers on February 10-11-12, Mixed on March 10-11-12 and Mens' from March 14-19. Fee is $48 per rink for each bonspiel. Entries may be phoned in to Colleen Brisson at 939-4525.

Murdock and Wendy Crowley announce the arrival of their daughter, Carrie, on January 22, 1978 at the Sturgeon General Hospital. A sister for Curtis and a new grand-daughter for William and Ann Orbeck of Morinville.

Marie Bokenfohr, Shirley Mikaluk and Yvette Taurangeau are enjoying the hot Hawaiian sun. The first week of their holiday will be on the island of Hawaii and then off to Maui. Have fun girls.

Anyone with news items is asked to contact Margaret Yacyshen at 939-3047, mail Box 100, Morinville, or stop in at 9715 - 99A Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Brochu married 65 years

Family and friends gathered recently on the occasion of the 65th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Amedee Brochu of Morinville, Alberta. Mr. and Mrs. Brochu were honored at a mass celebrated by Rev. Father G. Primeau in St. Jean Baptiste Church in Morinville, followed by a banquet and dance at the Morinville Legion Hall.

Mr. Brochu was born at St. Isidore, Quebec, in 1884. He came to Alberta in 1908 where he settled in Morinville. Here he opened his own shop as a carriagemaker. He also worked on the construction of the existing Church and on the Convents of Morinville and of St. Albert. In 1922, he took the Massey-Harris dealership, selling farm equipment and machinery until his retirement in 1952.

Mrs. Brochu, the former Adeline Fortier, was born at Ripon, Quebec in 1894. She came to Alberta with her family in 1907.

Mr. and Mrs. Brochu met in Morinville and married on January 7, 1913. They are still residing in their original home where they raised a family of 11 children, all of whom were present at the anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Brochu are the parents of Mr. Paul-Emile Brochu, Mr. Laurent Brochu, Mr. Leo Brochu all of Morinville; Mrs. Joffre (Marie-Anne) Girard, Mrs. Oscar (Jeanne) Nadon, Mrs. Paul (Berndadette) Dube, Mrs. John (Claire) Kloster, Mrs. (William) Rachel Pucylo, all of Edmonton; Mrs. Paul (Lorette) Poulin, St. Albert; Mrs. Maurice (Georgette) Rajotte, Wainwright; and Mrs. Leon (Gertrude) Levesque, Vermilion.

In addition, Mr. and Mrs. Brochu have 32 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

A special blessing and greetings were received from His Holiness Pope Paul VI. Messages and congratulations were also received from Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth, Honourable Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau, and the French Canadian Association of Alberta.

MR. & MRS. AMEDEE BROCHU

George P. Vanier News

Last Tuesday, January 17, the senior basketball teams played St. Albert High in Morinville. After some very exciting games, Vanier girls came through to win but unfortunately the boys lost.

On Friday, January 20, Vanier played St. Mary's, Westlock in Morinville. I'm sure everyone will agree that they were very exhausting games but it was worthwhile since both Vanier girls and boys won their games.

On Wednesday, January 25, Vanier senior teams will be going to Redwater to play basketball. Good luck!

Bon Accord News

By Sadie Allen

The Fish and Game Association will be holding a Fish Derby at Half Moon Lake on Sunday, January 29 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. All fish to be eligible must be weighed by 3 p.m. There will be lots of prizes so bring the whole family and get in on some fun. A warm-up tent, hot chocolate and soup will be available.

The next regular meeting of the association will be held on Thursday, February 9 at 8 p.m. at the school. The guest speaker will be Marcel Houle. Marcel is the owner and operator of a Taxidermy studio and will be showing slides and speaking on Coho fishing on the West Coast. He will also be giving tips on the care of game to be mounted and scoring of animals for trophies. The Sno-ball draw is still on but the winner must be at the meeting to claim his/her prize.

Tickets are $5.50 each and money must be in by February 4. If you plan on attending, contact Ken McGregor, 921-3845.

A silver identification bracelet with the name Raena inscribed has been found at the Bon Accord Laundromat. Owner may recover same by contacting 921-3813.

The bingo jackpot was finally won by Donna Williams of Thorhild in 60 numbers. A new jackpot goes this Sunday with $500 in 48 numbers. The bonanza was won by Tina Ratcliffe of Bon Accord. There was an especially good turnout for bingo a fact much appreciated by the Community Rec. Board. Hopefully you will all be there from now on. The Rec. Board wishes to extend its thanks to members of the Golden Gems who conducted the bingos over the last six weeks. Personnel from Moccasin Flats will be working them for the next period.

Catechism teachers met at the home of Eleanor McCormick, Gibbons on January 19. Besides covering the lessons for the next month, plans were made for a snowmobile party for the teen classes to be held on Sunday, February 5 at 1 p.m. A letter detailing information will be sent home with Catechism students. Future activities for students for both Bon Accord and Gibbons are a hayride and for teen boys, a tour of St. Joseph's Seminary. A reminder -- Catechism classes are held regularly on Sundays at 9:30 a.m. at the Bon Accord school.

The Gibbons Pottery Guild will meet Tuesday, January 31 in the Gibbons school. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

The Bon Accord United Church congregational meeting will be held on Monday, January 30 at 7:30 p.m. in the Church.

Bon Accord Reckettes Women's hockey club will be representing the area in the Winter Games to be held at Medicine Hat on March 4 and 5. Zone playoffs were held at Lancaster Park over the weekend with competing teams from Namao, C.F.B., Ardrossan and Bon Accord competing.

In the first game Bon Accord tied Ardrossan 4-4 with excellent goalkeeping by Shelley Brown. In the second game Namao was trounced by Ardrossan 12-1, putting the Bon Accord girls in the unenviable position of having to win over Namao by 11 goals in order to win the total point round robin playoff.

In the third game, the Reckettes came up with 14 goals to win the game and the playoff. In the final game, Beth Lewis had six goals and four assists, Marlene (Yogi) Souliere four goals and four assists with Sharon Ramstad scoring twice and Joanne Bokenfohr scoring two breakaway goals to clinch the playoff.

Reckette players are: Shelly Brown - goalie; Beth Lewis, Marlene (Yogi) Souliere, Gail Critchley, Linda Carruthers, Vicki Kaehn, Betty Adams, Yvette Gaumont, Barb Van Nord, Joan Siminiuk, Sharon Ramstad and Joanne Bokenfohr. The girls would like to thank all their fans for their support. Their next home game will be on January 29 when they will meet the U of A at 11:30 a.m.

To finance the trip to the Winter Games, the club will be conducting a number of fund raising activities and will look for your support in these endeavours. A very special thank you to Ramstad Trucking for their very generous donation of sweaters and socks to the team.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Abramski on the occasion of their Golden Anniversary on February 8.

Bon Accord Bantams scored a win over Morinville A's by a 6-4 score with Duane Hill getting four of the six goals.

Gibbons News

By Karen Hogg

This week is minor hockey week in Gibbons. There will be a bantam tournament held here with games during the week and the deciding games will be held all day Saturday at the arena. Our other teams will be going to other towns where tournaments will be held. Be sure not to miss out on all of this action and I am sure the kids would love your support.

Congratulations to the Gibbons Peewee B team for winning their game against Legal 6-0. Goals were made by Mike Beile - two goals, Ron Shaw - two goals; Mark Wasylenchuk - one goal; Ian Wamsley - one goal and Ronnie Christie picked up a shutout.

The Gibbons and Bon Accord Pottery Guild will be meeting on January 31 at 7:30 p.m. in the Gibbons Arts and Crafts room. All interested persons are urged to attend.

Several people have shown great interest in holding a skating school in Gibbons again. A person would also be needed to volunteer his or her services as a teacher. If anyone is willing please phone Catherine Toane at 923-3382.

Wishes for a speedy recovery are extended to Harvey McLean, George Shanks, Joe Krupa and Evelyn Massie who are all in the hospital at Redwater. Hope you all can return home soon!

Get well wishes are also extended to Steve Lamoureux who is in the General Hospital in Edmonton.

Sincere sympathy is expressed to Mrs. Shirley Boyle on the passing of her mother Mrs. Gertie Morris. The community extends their sincere sympathy.

Yvonne Pederson would like to express her sincere thanks to her relatives and friends for their many acts of kindness shown to her while she was in the hospital.

The Emmanuel Anglican Church vestry will hold their annual meeting Tuesday, February 14 at the Legion Hut at 7:30 p.m. All members of the Emmanuel Church are asked to please attend.

GIBBONS LIONS CLUB

The Gibbons Lions Club wishes to thank those who donated trees to our January 15 toboggan party and those members of the public who helped on Sunday. The club feels this party was a great success and is looking forward to seeing everyone at next year's event. Proceeds from the March 4 banquet-dance go to support this and other worthwhile community projects.

The R.I.M. will be an active spot in the coming years. On Mondays, ladies basketball takes place for women 18 and over at 9 p.m. On Tuesday, mixed adult badminton is played from 7 - 10 p.m. The Guides meet Wednesdays from 6 - 8 p.m. and the Teen Club for youngsters 13 - 17 years old meets Thursdays from 7 - 9 p.m. On January 31, registration for adult crafts will take place in the R.I.M. at 7:30 p.m. On February 1, the public is welcome to attend the regular meeting of the Recreation Board.

Gibbons Community Centre members would like to remind everyone of their annual meeting to be held February 20, 1978 at the Community Hall at 8 p.m. Memberships for $1 are also available. Please come out and support your community hall. Coffee and donuts will be served.

Gibbons Community Centre and Gibbons minor hockey are putting on a dance February 18, 1978 at the Community Hall. Tickets are $12 a couple. The band is "Jamboree Boys." Watch for posters.

Namao News

By Norma Crozier

Namao United Church congregation will hold its annual meeting in the Church following a lunch after the morning service on January 29. Everybody welcome.

The Namao Ridge Recreation Society wishes to express their thanks to Mr. Clayton Crozier for his contribution to their Recreation Project.

Get well wishes go out this week to Mrs. Joan Okerman who is a patient in the General Hospital in Edmonton after having hip surgery last week. Get well wishes go to Barbara Ward who suffered a broken collar bone in a car accident. May they both be well again very soon.

Sympathy of the district is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Art Dubie and family in the loss of Art's mother Mrs. Lena Dubie of Calgary, formerly of Namao. Mrs. Dubie passed away on January 20, 1978 at the age of 84 years. Besides her son Art she also leaves to mourn her loss, two daughters; Mrs. Jeannette Peterson of Calgary; and Mrs. Mabel Drinkwater of Edmonton, 17 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren. Funeral services were held in Calgary on January 23, 1978.

Lancaster Park Ladies Curling Club honored its most senior curler, Mrs. Olga Carruthers on her birthday. On January 19 Olga was 76 years young and still enjoys curling.

Congratulations to Namao curlers who participated in the Morinville Ladies Bonspiel. The rinks of Mrs. Alice McLay won the B event with Norma Wagner, third, Jay McBurney, second and Dorothy Stanton, lead. Mary Clark's rink of Gwen Rockwell, third, Tillie Meyers, second and Celia Kruse, lead won second place in C event.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald McLay had their lake property at Lac La Nonne broken into by thieves for the second time in six months last week. Their outboard motor was taken for the second time and their cottage vandalized.

Waugh News

The Roman Catholic parishioners had a family Christmas party at the Waugh Hall on December 18. Everyone enjoyed an evening of card playing, games and carolling. The youngsters were surprised and thrilled by a visit from Santa who handed out bags of goodies to each one. The alter boy, Leonard Knor and organist Marilyn Marchak were pleasantly surprised recipients of gifts from the parish. Father Bois, parish priest was also presented with a gift.

In keeping with an old tradition, two church groups in the community went carolling from house to house during the Christmas season. Many thanks to everyone for their kind donations.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Beverly and Ron Kostiw and Shirley and Garry Hills, and to the Emile Andrusiw family on the passing of their mother and sister, Mrs. Anne F. Woywitka on December 26.

A furniture re-upholstery course will be held in the Waugh Hall in March. Preliminary meeting - February 17, 1978 at 10 a.m. (Note: Bring piece of furniture to be reupholstered to this meeting). Workshop - March 6, 7, 8 and 9 at 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. Class Limit - 14. Registration fee - $12.00. To register: Contact Mary at 961-2215 before February 1, 1978. It is important to pre-register early if this course is to be held.

Anyone who would like any of the following courses please get in touch with our community contacts so that arrangements can be made to hold them - Chinese cooking, window treatment, molded chocolate demonstration, denim sew, flower arranging, are offered. Or if you are interested in any other courses not listed above, make your requests to Mary at 961-2215 or Olga 961-2240.

Bon Accord installing water meters

In the interest of water conservation, the Village of Bon Accord has decided to install meters throughout the municipality. A supply of meters is now on hand and installation is expected to commence before the end of January. The village maintenance staff will carry out the routine installations; the more complicated jobs will be done either by or under the supervision of a plumber Residents are asked to cooperate with village staff as the work progresses.

Water charges based on meter readings will not be made until all meters have been installed.

The following write-up from a publication entitled "The Utility Operator" will illustrate some of the reasons why council decided to embark on installation of water meters:

"The installation of water meters for all customers, combined with a billing system which rewards those who use less water, is recognized as a basic component of any water-conservation program.

The basic reason for requesting meter water rates rather than flat rates is that water use becomes a fact more apparent in the mind of the user.

It is a practical method of restricting excessive water waste.

For at least three generations, water has been available to the householder at the flick of a wrist. The result has been a series of water wasting habits in which we may not always be able to indulge.

Assuming that something so important as water comes from an endless supply can be a fatal mistake. Water wastage accounts for about half the volume normally used in our municipal water supplies.

It is not reasonable to run two gallons of water through the tap to get one six-ounce glass of water -- but some people do it anyway. A pitcher in the refrigerator is just as capable of providing that cool refreshing drink.

Why run 40 gallons through the hose while only five gallons are needed to rinse off a car?

Sprinklers which throw half the water on the sidewalk and are operated during the middle of the day (when evaporation is highest) demonstrate obvious waste.

There are many activities that contribute to water shortages which are becoming more troublesome each year.

Following are some suggestions consumers could practice - especially during times of shortage:

1. Water lawns, gardens, trees and shrubs only at night and no more than once a week. A one-inch soaking with a bucket is preferable to sprinkling.

2. Wash automobiles, windows, sidewalks etc. with discretion.

3. Turn off water-operated air conditioners and non-recycling ornamental fountains.

4. Operate automatic clothes and dishwashers only with full loads.

5. Locate and repair leaks in toilets and other water fixtures. For example, food coloring placed in the reservoir of a toilet will show up in the bowl without flushing if there is a leak.

6. Fill the sink, rather than let the water run, when washing or shaving.

7. Commercial customers could replace automatically flushing urinals with those which are flushed manually.

8. Shut off the outside tap, not just the hose nozzle, when watering is finished.

9. Delay installation of new sod and fertilizer until water shortages are over.

10. Mulch gardens with grass clippings to minimize evaporation and to control weeds.

FIRE PROTECTION FOR VILLAGE ONLY

A bylaw #104 of the Village of Bon Accord to control the use of the Village Mobile Fire equipment was passed at the regular meeting of council held January 17, 1978.

This bylaw will be of interest to persons residing adjacent to the Village boundary inasmuch as it restricts the use of the fire engine to the Village except for (1) fighting any fires which may occur outside the village on property owned, leased or controlled by the Village, or (2) when a fire originating on property lying within the MD of Sturgeon adjacent to the village boundary threatens the safety of village property or its residents.

Bylaw #105 respecting the Prevention and Extinguishment of Fires will be presented to council in the near future.

ANNUAL MEETING

Date for the annual meeting has been set for Monday, March 20, 1978 at 8 p.m. at the Community Hall.

HISTORY BOOKS

The Village of Bon Accord has recently received delivery of 550 copies of Leaves of Yesteryear - A History of Bon Accord and District (Second Edition). On receipt of the invoice, the selling price per book will be determined and copies may be obtained at the Village Office.

COMMISSIONER FOR OATHS

Council is pleased to announce that Linda Hepner has been appointed Commissioner for Oaths and will be pleased to serve the community in this capacity.

SNOWMOBILES

Village residents, as well as others from the surrounding rural area, are reminded that snowmobiles are not allowed to operate anywhere within the village boundary. Operators violating this regulation may be charged under the Off Highway Vehicles Act.

Bon Accord's Winterama, set for 1978

By Sadie Allen

The Winterama runs from January 27 - February 26, with activities concentrated on the weekends. This year the theme has been changed a little.

Instead of the usual carnival queen contest, raffle tickets on a weekend trip for two to Las Vegas (three days and two nights including air fare, hotels, and a few extras) are being sold for $1 each. Please support your community by buying some.

Again this year the carnival committee is asking for donations of "goodies" (puffed wheat squares, cupcakes etc.), or anything eatable that can be sold for 10 cents. Please take your offering to the arena, or if that is not possible contact Pauline.

A community bonfire is scheduled for Sunday, January 29. Donations of anything burnable may be delivered to the arena grounds or if you need transportation, for it, call Pauline at 921-3625. Please come out and make the Winterama a BIG SUCCESS -- Bon Accord Community Centre and Carnival Committee.

Sunday School circle held meeting

The first meeting of the New Year was held in the Sunday School building on Tuesday, January 10. Donna Williams was hostess, Cindy Williams assisting with lunch. Karen Hogg was in the chair and called the meeting to order. Cindy Williams, the new secretary, called the roll; 11 members present. Cindy then read the minutes of the November meeting. After some discussion, it was moved by Anne, seconded by Gladys that they be adopted as read.

It was decided that contacts for the use of the Sunday School building would remain the same. Anne Allison (phone 998-3128) for the east side, and Della Gibbons (923-2140) for the west side.

Donna read a verse which she had composed about the Sunday School Circle Christmas party, which was really good as well as being funny.

The meeting became general. Ideas were put forward for different small crafts which would be useful either for the bazaar table or the fish pond. The ladies will each make a lunch cloth for the tea tables and an apron for themselves. Eileen Stirton had purchased the material. This was cut and handed out.

Marj. Taylor gave the treasurer's report on the teachers dinner and the Seed Cleaning Plant banquet. She also reported she had a call, enquiring whether the Circle would cater for a wedding (300 guests) on July 22.

Each member is to bring a recipe to the next meeting on February 14 at Anne Allison's home.

Cindy had brought a scrapbook, which Donna will start.

It was decided to make a quilt. Marj. and Anne were appointed a committee to find out what "Commonwealth Games" squares, which someone had suggested.

Donna served lunch, assisted by Cindy and Kay.

Christmas dinner enjoyed by goldenagers

By Liz McLeod

There's never a dull moment around Calahoo and none more enthusiastic than the senior citizens getting together for fun and games.

This happy day started out at 1 p.m., with the playing of cards, just waiting for everyone to arrive. The card game was played as a way to distribute gifts.

A delicious Christmas dinner was enjoyed by 55 happy members, friends and neighbours who gathered this afternoon, with many from Onoway present.

The birthdays that were acknowledged this happy day were, Mrs. P. Arvilla Majeau, Mrs. Mabel Brand, Mrs. Margaret Miller and Mrs. Borle.

The January 11 meeting was cancelled due to the untimely death of a valued member from Onoway, Mr. Charles Seeley, who passed away January 8. The sympathy of this district is extended to his loving wife Gloria and family.

We are happy to report that another member, Mrs. Emelia Schmermund of Calahoo, is convalescing favorably at home now, after her two week stay in the Royal Alexandra Hospital.

Get well wishes are in order for a former resident, Mr. Herbert Bergstreiser, who is still in the Royal Alexandra Hospital and to Mr. Joseph Freitag in St. Albert General Hospital.

The next meeting of the Calahoo Goldenage Club will be held in the Gazebo on Wednesday, January 25 at 1 p.m.

Visitors are always welcome.

CHILDRENDS CHRISTMAS PARTY

This has become an annual event, to give the small children a Christmas party complete with bags of goodies handed out by Santa Claus.

Entertainment and singing by talented parents was enjoyed on Saturday, December 17 in the Arena.

BABIES IN THE NEWS

Melvin and June Verbeek of R.R. 1 Calahoo are congratulated on the birth of their son, Trent Michael Allan, born on November 22, 1977.

Proud grandparents are James and Theda Verbeek of R.R. 1 Calahoo and Mrs. Violet McLeod from Edmonton.

Trent also has a great grandmother, Mrs. Anna Gitzel, of Stony Plain.

Trent's mother June was guest of honor at a shower held in the Gazebo on December 14.

Twenty-five neighbours, relatives and friends played a few games of bingo before June, with Theda Verbeek assisting, opened all the gifts.

Lunch was enjoyed by all present and June graciously thanked everyone. Special thanks went to Mrs. Felix (Donna) Berube and Mrs. Marv (Linda) Perrott for making this evening possible.

Calahoo Women's Institute Christmas party

By Liz McLeod

The Calahoo Women's Institute members and their families met in the Gazebo for their annual Christmas party, December 18.

All 43 who were present, enjoyed the traditional turkey dinner. It was followed by the famous card game, with everyone receiving a gift at its completion.

Emelia Schmermund checked into the Royal Alexandra Hospital this same afternoon for surgery and a two week stay.

After the card game, members gathered in the kitchen for a brief business meeting. A decision was made to meet in the Gazebo on the fourth Tuesday of each month, with the January and February meetings in the afternoon. There will be no meetings in July or August.

The group was pleased to receive the Alberta Historical Foundation grant through the Minister of Culture, Horst Schmidt. It went towards the cost of erecting the Cairn to honor the pioneers of Calahoo and district.

Constituency Convenor, Mrs. Fred Isabell Wheatley of Onoway, had a scheduled visit to Wabamun W.I. at 5 p.m. and had to leave early.

The door prize brought by Mrs. Carl Lena Bergstreiser, was won by her daughter, Mrs. Roy Alice Schmermund.

The roll call was answered by all members except Mrs. D. Margaret Douglas, who sent her resignation to the president.

It can be said that this 186th meeting of Calahoo W.I. was a very enjoyable experience. Names were again drawn, so that secret pals may send valentine, Easter and birthday gift and cards. When the Christmas gift is given, names are revealed and the guessing is over.

A very happy, healthy and prosperous New Year to one and all!

Rabbit meat getting more popular

FROM FARM LIGHT AND POWER

LINDBROOK, ALBERTA -- Elizabeth and Ron Hubbard are not concerned about market prices, at 45 to 55 cents a pound, their livestock is always on the hop.

For three years they have been raising rabbits on their acreage, Lindbrook Rabbit Farm.

The demand for rabbit meat has been growing steadily. Indeed, Mrs. Hubbard says she finds it difficult to supply enough rabbits to meet the customers demands.

"Rabbit meat has been popular in Europe for many years but Canadians are just beginning to think of it as a meat animal rather than a pet.

"Rabbit is an all-white meat which may be compared with chicken in flavour. It has more protein than beef and it's very digestible.

"Because most of the waste is removed at the processing plant and rabbits have light small bones its an economical meat," she says.

Most of the rabbits are sold at eight weeks after they reach live weight of more than four pounds.

These fryer rabbits can be cut into seven serving pieces; four legs and three pieces along the back or saddle. The rabbit's liver, which has a very mild flavour, kidney and heart are sold with the meat.

The Hubbards have a breeding herd of 20 to 25 rabbits. The animals are kept in individual wire mesh cages and housed in a 324 square foot barn.

The mest cages allow rabbit droppings to fall on the barn floor where they are easily collected. The barn is well vented and insulated for summer and winter use.

It's important to keep the barn's temperature from reaching extremes which may affect the rabbit's fertility. In winter, heat from the incandescent lighting keeps the barn warm and comfortable. During the day we turn the fan on to occassionally circulate the air."

Mrs. Hubbard thinks rabbits are an ideal acreage animal.

"They don't require much room, are relatively easy to care for and handle, breed well and don't demand a great deal of time every day. Most chores can be done in two, daily half hour sessions with a day-long weekly cleaning.

"Most problems associated with a commercial rabbitry can be overcome by following the basic principles of good husbandry, proper and ample feeding and water; draft-free shelter and regular cleaning of barn and cages.

"There isn't much equipment available at present for commercial rabbitries, so I've improvised and built much of my own."

"With proper management rabbit raising can provide a good hobby income. New rabbits can be marketable at eight weeks.

"Each doe is usually bred four times a year. She has a gestation period of 31 days and our average litter is about eight young."

"In breeding stock we look for high quality animals. Rabbits should have rounded good sized hips, be wide across the shoulders and have a compact meaty body. They should be bright eyed, alert and free from defect."

"There's been an increasing demand for breeding stock as more people become interested in raising meat rabbits."

To offer support and assistance to Alberta's rabbit raisers the Alberta Association of Commercial Rabbit producers was formed this March.

Mrs. Hubbard is one of 60 members.

"I think this association is a great idea. People run into problems and it will give us an opportunity to assist each other and share ideas," she says.

We'll also be interested in educating the public, promoting rabbit as a regular part of the family menu, as well as encouraging others who are interested in getting into the area."

Riviere Qui Barre Light Horse Club

By Courtney Campbell

The Riviere Qui Barre Rancheros Light Horse Club had a family dance on December 2. We would like to thank the Satellites for the music and the people who donated the prizes for the dance. We picked a Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus and four elves. Mrs. Santa Claus was Cathy Sobelewski and Mr. Santa Claus was Mr. Saaper. The four elves were Mrs. Victor Soetaert, Darcy Granger, Danny Majeau and Cecil Durand. A delicious lunch was served, and a very good time was had by all.
